Army Disintegrated, Control Shattered

Katanga President Yields To U.N. After Brief Period Of House Arrest

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—With his army disintegrating and his control over Katanga shattered, President Moise Tshombe yielded a bit today to the United Nations after a brief period of house arrest.

Accompanied by a police jeep, he set out ahead of a U.N. column to urge his scattered troops not to resist a movement to Sakania, an important border point about 120 miles southeast of this Katangan capital.

In ordering his house arrest, the United Nations had demanded that the president guarantee freedom of movement through the secessionist province. Apparently he was released, however, after giving assurances only for the Sakania movement.

"I am authorized to declare," said British Consul Derek Dodson, "that President Tshombe grants to the United Nations complete freedom of movement on the road to Sakania."

Remnants of Tshombe's disorganized forces have fled to the Sakania area, a crossing point into northern Rhodesia.

Tshombe's house arrest in Elisabethville was ordered Wednesday night by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant after the Katangan leader renewed his threat to blow of the big industrial installations and hydroelectric dam at Kolwezi.

A U.N. spokesman said Tshombe was released from house arrest early today and immediately set out with a U.N. column for the towns of Kasembulesa and Sakania, southeast of Elisabethville on the border of Northern Rhodesia.

There was no immediate explanation why Tshombe and the column did not move northwest toward Kolwezi, the scene of the greatest threat from Tshombe's holdout forces.

The U.N. spokesman said the column had encountered no resistance after advancing 40 miles.

The U.N. spokesman said the operation was going according to plan.

Katangan sources said Tshombe tried to leave his presidential palace Wednesday night. U.N. Tunisian troops stopped him, enforcing the house arrest order.

It was understood Tshombe then contacted the British consul in Elisabethville and through him offered U.N. troops freedom of movement to Sakania. U.N. authorities then agreed Tshombe could go free.

Katangan sources said Tshombe declined a United Nations escort in leading the U.N. advance, and a U.N. spokesman confirmed that he was out in front of the U.N. column unescorted.

Katangan sources said a wide span bridge over the Lualaba river, 25 miles from Kolwezi, had been blown up and destroyed. The sources said it may have been blown up by accident.

A spokesman for Secretary-General U Thant issued a statement at U.N. headquarters Wednesday night demanding that Tshombe show good faith and permit peaceful entry of U.N. forces into Kolwezi, a key mining and hydroelectric center.

"Unless such proof is given," the statement said "there can no more be any question of contact with Mr. Tshombe on other matters; and therefore ONUC—U.N. Force in the Congo—has been instructed to restrain him from further irresponsible acts."

Tshombe already was surrounded by U.N. forces. When he returned to Elisabethville Tuesday from his emergency headquarters in Kolwezi, U.N. troops were withdrawn from the presidential palace and replaced by Katangan gendarmes. U.N. forces control the rest of Elisabethville.

U.N. forces also were massed at Jadotville, about 70 miles northwest of Elisabethville, ready to move on Kolwezi, 80 miles farther on. A report from AP correspondent Adrian Porter in Kolwezi indicated they would have little trouble taking the town.

But Porter said the force of African gendarmes and white mercenaries still in the town was virtually out of control. He reported that Union Miniere officials at Kolwezi feared the troops would go ahead with the destruction without waiting for orders from Tshombe, or would defy any order from Tshombe to abandon the sabotage plans.

Porter said explosives experts among the mercenaries had placed huge quantities of dynamite that could destroy Union Miniere's huge copper and cobalt plant and break open the Nzilo hydroelectric plant and dam, sending flood waters into northern Katanga.

Tough Fights Ahead

Kennedy's Victory On Rules Termed No Breakthrough

Republicans Fire Salvos At Budget

Say Tax Cut And Big Spending Will Bring Huge Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration has won the first battle of the new Congress—the showdown over the House Rules Committee. But not even the victors claimed it was a major breakthrough for the President's program.

Only the tougher fights to come will show whether it was a real or hollow victory.

The tough fights were shaping up even as the Congress members were welcoming each other back to the Capitol, meeting new members and generally going about the task of getting back into business.

Republicans fired opening salvos at the President's estimated $99-billion budget, saying that his proposed tax cuts plus bigger spending would bring a whopping deficit.

Some of the GOP's young Turks let it be known they intend to offer alternatives to Kennedy's programs rather than just condemn them.

The first day's drama centered on the House vote of 235 to 196 to retain 15 members on the Rules Committee instead of having the total drop back down to 12 as it was before the last session.

Presumably the enlarged membership would give liberal supporters of the Kennedy program an 8-7 edge and keep the committee from falling back under conservative control.

Obviously the result pleased the President. He had contended that unless the committee was enlarged his program would be emasculated.

His aides were saving their cheers for later. One top administration leader, asked if the rules outcome meant the House would now give the Kennedy program its blessing, said bluntly: "Hell, no!"

The same rules fight was won two years ago by a narrow 217 to 212 margin under the prodding of the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

By passing it this time by a much safer margin, the House gave Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., his biggest victory since he replaced Rayburn a year ago.

For the President, however, this represented only the first of many hurdles in attempting to get Congress to approve tax cuts and revisions, federal aid to education, health care for the elderly financed through Social Security, and other proposals.

Bills Propose West Virginia Tax Extension

Consumers' Levy, Cigarette, Races Among Measures

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) —Administration measures to extend some $16 million worth of expiring tax increases were among upwards of 50 bills introduced in the Legislature today, second day of the 1963 session.

The tax bills, introduced in the Senate by Finance Chairman Hans McCourt, D-Webster, included one to extend for another fiscal year the increase from 2 to 3 per cent in the consumers' sales tax rate on sales above $1.

First passed two years ago, the 3-per-cent rate is now scheduled to expire at the end of this fiscal year June 30. Continuation of the higher rate was asked by Gov. Barron in his address to the opening session yesterday. Failure to extend the increase would leave a budget hole of more than $9 million to be plugged.

Other Barron-requested bills introduced by McCourt would extend for another fiscal year the present rates of the cigarette, pari-mutuel betting and insurance premium taxes. Without legislation the cigarette tax would go down one cent after June 30 and reductions in the betting and premium taxes would take effect at the same time.

Senate President Howard W. Carson, D-Fayette, introduced a group of bills to modernize and clarify the state's road laws. The bills, drafted by a between-sessions study committee, involve such things as proceedings to acquire highway right of way, speed limits and public utility crossings of highways.

Carson and Senate Education Chairman C. H. McKown, D-Wayne, introduced a bill to channel the entire proceeds of a $50-a-semester registration fee at state-operated colleges and universities into a fund for construction of the institutions. Two-thirds of the revenue from the fee is set aside for this purpose at present.

Here's Gas 'Additive' That No Driver Needs

When an East Liverpool man's car stalled on him this morning, he found it was because of a gasoline "additive" dropped in the tank by a vandal.

Ermal Hunley of Trentvale St. told police his auto choked and quit as he drove to work this morning. Investigating, he found sugar had been placed in the gasoline tank, he said.

Hunley reported the vandalism to police at 9:02 this morning. He said it apparently occurred within the last few days while his 1953 auto was parked on Dresden Ave.

Bars Halt Liquor Sales At Chester

Sale of liquor across the bar at some Chester taverns has been halted or curtailed by operators reportedly as a result of the assignment of West Virginia State Police to special assistance duties in the city.

Officers at the Weirton barracks of the state police have been making periodic visits to Chester to supplement police protection while Council seeks to fill the police chief post and possibly hire a second patrolman.

A FIFTH application for police duty — reportedly in a sealed envelope — has been received, and will be opened at a special meeting of Council Friday night at 7:30 when appointment of a chief and patrolman will be considered.

State police continued to make occasional visits into the city today to supplement the police force which currently includes Patrolman Clifford Bebout and Special Officer Joe Bryan.

Former Police Chief Clarence Lennens was replaced last week by Orville Johnson, school bus driver and insurance agent, who resigned within two days, citing the press of other business.

DAVIS has applied for the chief post, and Lennens has applied for either the chief or patrolman posts. Other applications have been received from Lewis Lyons, 65, of Lycia Ave. and Gilbert Miller, 30, also of Lycia Ave.

Sale of whisky at some Chester taverns where the practice—prohibited by state law — has been maintained off and on for a number of years, has been stopped or curbed in the past few days.

Councilmen Wayne Hutton, Donald Chaney and Carl Graham have, since taking office six months ago, pressed for enforcement of all liquor and gambling laws.

Lennens, appointed chief for two 90-day probation periods, has maintained he sought search warrants for police action on violations, but could not get them.

At a special meeting Monday night Council authorized a further review of the applications for police posts and sent a request to Gov. W. W. Barron and State Police Supt. W. E. Burchett for assistance of state police.

Margaret Watches Firemen

Fire Erupts In Palace, British Princess' Home

LONDON (AP)—Fire broke out at Kensington Palace, the home of Princess Margaret, today and brought part of the roof crashing down near an apartment being prepared for her.

The blaze started in the palace rafters near the 20-room apartment being prepared for the princess and her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones. When it broke out, Margaret was in her present quarters at the other end of the palace.

London Fire Brigade sent 15 fire trucks to the blaze after an alarm was sounded by a palace painter. It took an hour to bring the flames under control.

Damage was mostly confined to a section of roof over the servants quarters in the apartment of Princess Marina, Duchess of Kent. This adjoins the home being readied for Margaret.

Princess Marina came out with Princess Margaret to watch the fire. They were joined by Princess Alexandra and Prince Michael, Marina's son and daughter.

A fire brigade spokesman said the servants' quarters in Princess Marina's residence were badly damaged.

Margaret and Armstrong-Jones —who now bears the title Earl of Snowdon—moved into No. 10 Kensington Palace after their marriage in 1960.

Grand Jury's Inquiry May Extend To Friday

LISBON — The County Grand Jury's investigation fell behind schedule Wednesday and may continue into Friday instead of ending this afternoon, as originally anticipated, Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said.

Seventeen cases are to be presented to the panel today, in addition to those not heard as scheduled yesterday, the prosecutor said. If the investigation and report are not completed today, the panel will return Friday, he added. The panel convened Tuesday to study 32 cases.

Talks Linked To Improving U.S.-Red Ties

Periodic Parleys, As One Now, Held Hope For Solution

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials expressed hope today that periodic high level talks with Soviet representatives, such as the ones now under way here, will lead eventually to a breakthrough in improving East-West relations.

Major Kennedy administration hopes at the moment still center on the possibility of getting an American-British agreement with the Soviet Union for a nuclear weapons test ban. This is due in part to the belief that the widening split between the Soviet Union and Red China may influence Soviet nuclear test policy.

President Kennedy spent an hour at the White House late Wednesday with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov, who is scheduled to return to Moscow in a few days.

Kuznetsov meets with Secretary of State Dean Rusk today and then lunches with Rusk and other foreign policy officials at the State Department.

On leaving the White House Kuznetsov said only that he came from New York to Washington at the President's invitation and that Kennedy and he had discussed "some problems of mutual interest."

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the two men and their aides met "in a very cordial atmosphere" and reviewed the recent negotiations on the Cuban crisis which had been conducted in New York.

2 Hurt As Car Collides With Deer In Road

A Lisbon area youth and a Rogers district girl, en route home from a Beaver Local grade school basketball game, received minor injuries when their car and a deer collided on Route 30 near Apples Corners about 6:20 p. m. Wednesday.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Ralph Dawson, 19, of Lisbon R. D. 2 was headed west about a tenth of a mile west of Route 267 when the deer ran into the road in the path of his auto.

Witnesses said the deer stopped suddenly, then turned and ran toward the car, colliding with the 1958 coach on the left front and breaking the windshield. The deer was killed.

Terry Torma, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Torma of the Y. & O. Rd., another passenger, was unhurt.

Mrs. Kinsey, who later went to the hospital, slipped and fell outside the building and was treated for abrasions of the hand and face.

40 Hurt As Subway Trains Crash In Paris

PARIS (AP) — Two subway trains collided today on a line in southwest Paris. Police said about 40 persons were injured, but a spokesman for the line placed the number at 10 to 15.

There was no official report on how the accident occurred, but a passenger told a reporter the train he was on halted between stations and the second train crashed into it.

Frosty Roads Cause Series Of Accidents

Woman Hurt As Car Skids, Rolls Over Embankment

A Calcutta area woman was injured when her car skidded on an icy section of St. Clair Ave. Ext. and rolled over an embankment at the intersection with Casting Club Rd. Wednesday night.

Mrs. Helen Hancock, 38, of Highland Dr. suffered abrasions and bruises in the mishap, which occurred about 10:30 according to St. Clair Police Constable Lester McElhaney.

The sedan was heavily damaged, according to the officer who said the section of road was very hazardous from a thin film of ice.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon late this morning was investigating two accidents in the northern part of Columbiana County, which were reportedly caused by slippery road conditions.

Officers said no one appeared hurt in the mishaps, one of which took place near Damascus and the other on Route 9 south of Salem.

Officers said roads were hazardous in many places early today when water and moisture froze on highway surfaces or the frost caused slickness.

A number of roads and streets in the district were icy in places last night and today, with a heavy frost evident. In Chester, some streets were cindered early this morning.

The State Highway Department garage at Leetonia said the situation did not require cindering as the icing apparently was spotty on county roads.

Mayor Plans 2nd Term Bid At Wellsville

Wellsville Mayor William W. Daugherty announced today he will seek nomination for a second term in the Democratic primary May 7.

At the same time, Joseph W. Chetwynd, 1321 St. Clair Ave., former purchasing agent at the Edwin M. Knowles China Co., filed with the County Election Board for the Republican nomination for councilman - at - large.

Mayor Daugherty, 49, first was elected in November 1961. An insurance salesman, he is a veteran of World War II and past president of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club, East Liverpool Life Underwriters Association and the Wellsville Red Cross Chapter.

Chetwynd now is employed at the Patterson Foundry & Machine Co. plant. Making his first bid for elective office, he is an elder in the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church and a member of Elks Lodge 258.

Married, he has two daughters—Nancy, a student at Youngstown University, and Betsy, an eighth grade student at Westgate School.

Of three incumbent councilmen-at-large, only one has announced his intention in the primary. Frank Duffy, a Democrat, will bid for his party's mayoral nomination. The other two incumbents are Republicans — Robert W. Sample Jr. and George E. Willshaw.

Man Jailed On 3 Charges After 'Hunch'

Car Theft, Larceny Counts Filed After Suspect's Quizzed

An off-duty patrolman took time to check out a hunch late Wednesday night, leading to the arrest of an East End man on charges of auto theft and two petty larceny counts.

Patrolman Paul E. Carter apprehended Sherman E. Mikeals, 25, of Dewey Ave. Ext. in a 1956 two-door sedan which John Smuz of the Elks Club had reported stolen Tuesday night or early Wednesday from W. 6th St., near City Hall.

Investigating further, he charged Mikeals with theft of a license plate from a Salineville man's parked auto and theft of a tire, wheel and jack from the Smuz auto.

And to cap it all, he checked out a suspicious passerby and charged him with carrying a concealed weapon.

Officer Carter said he found a .32 caliber pistol on John Wasson, 34, of Lawrenceville, near Chester.

It all began about 11:30 p. m. Wednesday as the officer drove along St. Clair Ave. in Maplewood in his private car, taking a friend of his wife's to her home after a visit.

He said he saw an auto parked along St. Clair and thought it might be Smuz's stolen car. He decided to check on his return trip.

As Officer Carter headed toward the downtown area again, he saw the suspicious car emerge from Azalea Ave. onto St. Clair Ave. and then head onto Maplewood Ave., a side street leading

Bars Halt Liquor Sales At Chester

Sale of liquor across the bar at some Chester taverns has been halted or curtailed by operators reportedly as a result of the assignment of West Virginia State Police to special assistance duties in the city.

Officers at the Weirton barracks of the state police have been making periodic visits to Chester to supplement police protection while Council seeks to fill the police chief post and possibly hire a second patrolman.

A FIFTH application for police duty — reportedly in a sealed envelope — has been received, and will be opened at a special meeting of Council Friday night at 7:30 when appointment of a chief and patrolman will be considered.

State police continued to make occasional visits into the city today to supplement the police force which currently includes Patrolman Clifford Bebout and Special Officer Joe Bryan.

Former Police Chief Clarence Lennens was replaced last week by Orville Johnson, school bus driver and insurance agent, who resigned within two days, citing the press of other business.

DAVIS has applied for the chief post, and Lennens has applied for either the chief or patrolman posts. Other applications have been received from Lewis Lyons, 65, of Lycia Ave. and Gilbert Miller, 30, also of Lycia Ave.

Sale of whisky at some Chester taverns where the practice—prohibited by state law — has been maintained off and on for a number of years, has been stopped or curbed in the past few days.

At a special meeting Monday night Council authorized a further review of the applications for police posts and sent a request to Gov. W. W. Barron and State Police Supt. W. E. Burchett for assistance of state police.

Fire Erupts In Palace, British Princess' Home

LONDON (AP)—Fire broke out at Kensington Palace, the home of Princess Margaret, today and brought part of the roof crashing down near an apartment being prepared for her.

The blaze started in the palace rafters near the 20-room apartment being prepared for the princess and her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones. When it broke out, Margaret was in her present quarters at the other end of the palace.

London Fire Brigade sent 15 fire trucks to the blaze after an alarm was sounded by a palace painter. It took an hour to bring the flames under control.

Damage was mostly confined to a section of roof over the servants quarters in the apartment of Princess Marina, Duchess of Kent. This adjoins the home being readied for Margaret.

Princess Marina came out with Princess Margaret to watch the fire. They were joined by Princess Alexandra and Prince Michael, Marina's son and daughter.

A fire brigade spokesman said the servants' quarters in Princess Marina's residence were badly damaged.

Margaret and Armstrong-Jones —who now bears the title Earl of Snowdon—moved into No. 10 Kensington Palace after their marriage in 1960.

Grand Jury's Inquiry May Extend To Friday

Periodic Parleys, As One Now, Held Hope For Solution

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials expressed hope today that periodic high level talks with Soviet representatives, such as the ones now under way here, will lead eventually to a breakthrough in improving East-West relations.

Major Kennedy administration hopes at the moment still center on the possibility of getting an American-British agreement with the Soviet Union for a nuclear weapons test ban. This is due in part to the belief that the widening split between the Soviet Union and Red China may influence Soviet nuclear test policy.

President Kennedy spent an hour at the White House late Wednesday with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov, who is scheduled to return to Moscow in a few days.

Kuznetsov meets with Secretary of State Dean Rusk today and then lunches with Rusk and other foreign policy officials at the State Department.

On leaving the White House Kuznetsov said only that he came from New York to Washington at the President's invitation and that Kennedy and he had discussed "some problems of mutual interest."

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the two men and their aides met "in a very cordial atmosphere" and reviewed the recent negotiations on the Cuban crisis which had been conducted in New York.

2 Hurt As Car Collides With Deer In Road

A Lisbon area youth and a Rogers district girl, en route home from a Beaver Local grade school basketball game, received minor injuries when their car and a deer collided on Route 30 near Apples Corners about 6:20 p. m. Wednesday.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Ralph Dawson, 19, of Lisbon R. D. 2 was headed west about a tenth of a mile west of Route 267 when the deer ran into the road in the path of his auto.

Witnesses said the deer stopped suddenly, then turned and ran toward the car, colliding with the 1958 coach on the left front and breaking the windshield. The deer was killed.

Terry Torma, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Torma of the Y. & O. Rd., another passenger, was unhurt.

Mrs. Kinsey, who later went to the hospital, slipped and fell outside the building and was treated for abrasions of the hand and face.

40 Hurt As Subway Trains Crash In Paris

PARIS (AP) — Two subway trains collided today on a line in southwest Paris. Police said about 40 persons were injured, but a spokesman for the line placed the number at 10 to 15.

There was no official report on how the accident occurred, but a passenger told a reporter the train he was on halted between stations and the second train crashed into it.

Soviet Opens Regular Ship Service To Cuba

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has opened regular passenger and cargo ship service to Cuba.

The official news agency Tass said three ships will be used.

Frosty Roads Cause Series Of Accidents

Woman Hurt As Car Skids, Rolls Over Embankment

A Calcutta area woman was injured when her car skidded on an icy section of St. Clair Ave. Ext. and rolled over an embankment at the intersection with Casting Club Rd. Wednesday night.

Mrs. Helen Hancock, 38, of Highland Dr. suffered abrasions and bruises in the mishap, which occurred about 10:30 according to St. Clair Police Constable Lester McElhaney.

The sedan was heavily damaged, according to the officer who said the section of road was very hazardous from a thin film of ice.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon late this morning was investigating two accidents in the northern part of Columbiana County, which were reportedly caused by slippery road conditions.

Officers said no one appeared hurt in the mishaps, one of which took place near Damascus and the other on Route 9 south of Salem.

Officers said roads were hazardous in many places early today when water and moisture froze on highway surfaces or the frost caused slickness.

A number of roads and streets in the district were icy in places last night and today, with a heavy frost evident. In Chester, some streets were cindered early this morning.

The State Highway Department garage at Leetonia said the situation did not require cindering as the icing apparently was spotty on county roads.

Mayor Plans 2nd Term Bid At Wellsville

Wellsville Mayor William W. Daugherty announced today he will seek nomination for a second term in the Democratic primary May 7.

At the same time, Joseph W. Chetwynd, 1321 St. Clair Ave., former purchasing agent at the Edwin M. Knowles China Co., filed with the County Election Board for the Republican nomination for councilman - at - large.

Mayor Daugherty, 49, first was elected in November 1961. An insurance salesman, he is a veteran of World War II and past president of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club, East Liverpool Life Underwriters Association and the Wellsville Red Cross Chapter.

Chetwynd now is employed at the Patterson Foundry & Machine Co. plant. Making his first bid for elective office, he is an elder in the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church and a member of Elks Lodge 258.

Married, he has two daughters—Nancy, a student at Youngstown University, and Betsy, an eighth grade student at Westgate School.

Of three incumbent councilmen-at-large, only one has announced his intention in the primary. Frank Duffy, a Democrat, will bid for his party's mayoral nomination. The other two incumbents are Republicans — Robert W. Sample Jr. and George E. Willshaw.

Kill 56 Guerrillas

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—The government said today its forces have killed 56 Viet Cong guerrillas in new drives through two southern delta provinces. Government losses were placed at three dead.

Man Jailed On 3 Charges After 'Hunch'

Car Theft, Larceny Counts Filed After Suspect's Quizzed

An off-duty patrolman took time to check out a hunch late Wednesday night, leading to the arrest of an East End man on charges of auto theft and two petty larceny counts.

Patrolman Paul E. Carter apprehended Sherman E. Mikeals, 25, of Dewey Ave. Ext. in a 1956 two-door sedan which John Smuz of the Elks Club had reported stolen Tuesday night or early Wednesday from W. 6th St., near City Hall.

Investigating further, he charged Mikeals with theft of a license plate from a Salineville man's parked auto and theft of a tire, wheel and jack from the Smuz auto.

And to cap it all, he checked out a suspicious passerby and charged him with carrying a concealed weapon.

Officer Carter said he found a .32 caliber pistol on John Wasson, 34, of Lawrenceville, near Chester.

It all began about 11:30 p. m. Wednesday as the officer drove along St. Clair Ave. in Maplewood in his private car, taking a friend of his wife's to her home after a visit.

He said he saw an auto parked along St. Clair and thought it might be Smuz's stolen car. He decided to check on his return trip.

As Officer Carter headed toward the downtown area again, he saw the suspicious car emerge from Azalea Ave. onto St. Clair Ave. and then head onto Maplewood Ave., a side street leading

Program On Heart Disease Held At BPW Club Meeting

Dr. Milton Wolpert was guest speaker for the dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

He discussed various types of heart disease and the newest medicines for its control. Using a large plastic heart, he described the characteristics of the vital organ. Mrs. Edna Davis and Mrs. Dorothy Eaton, his office assistants, gave a demonstration of the electro - cardiogram, with Mrs. Edna Jones as the patient.

Dr. Wolpert read the results. Literature on heart disease was distributed. Mrs. Jones, program chairman, made the introduction.

Mrs. Robert Wotring, chairman of the personal development committee in charge of the meeting, introduced Miss Cynthia Smith, a sophomore at East Liverpool High School, who spoke on "World Calendar Reform." This is a requirement of the Speech-Arts Department and her subject concerned the original calendar change proposal as presented to the League of Nations and the United Nations.

Mrs. Helen Moore, president, conducted business. Reports were heard from Miss Roberta Pennybaker, secretary, and Miss Helen Auld, treasurer.

Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, chairman of the civic participation committee, announced the National Federation is sponsoring an essay contest for BPW members only on the topic, "What Citizenship Means to Me."

Miss Helen Bibbee read correspondence and Miss Joan Witt gave the membership report, asking that prospective members' names be turned in by Jan. 23.

The tables were decorated with large hearts and heart candy cup favors. Miss Margaret Baum gave the invocation.

Mrs. Wotring was assisted by Mrs. John Reese, Mrs. Grace Craven, Mrs. Betty Reed, Mrs. Hilda Edgar and Mrs. Eileen Brown.

Next meeting is Feb. 13 when the world affairs committee, with Miss Frances Jones chairman, will present the program. The theme will be "The Peace Corps."

Wellston Man Is New State Fire Marshal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Fred Rice of Wellston, Jackson County, will be the new state fire marshal.

Rice, a former state representative, will assume the post Monday when the administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes goes into office. He will succeed Wilson (Slip) McLaughlin of Sandusky.

Rice was an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination as congressman from the 10th Ohio District. He has been a tire and appliance dealer.

In other announcements, Gov.-Elect Rhodes named Col. Herbert L. Minton, 40, of Elyria, as assistant adjutant general, Army, and Col. Frederick P. Wenger, Worthington, assistant adjutant general, Air.

Col. Minton is First Battle Group Commander, 145th Infantry, 37th Infantry Division of the Ohio National Guard. His last command in World War II was as battalion executive officer. He participated in four major campaigns of the war.

Col. Wenger, a command pilot with more than 4,400 flying hours, is an air technician with the Ohio National Air Guard and is currently assigned as deputy wing commander. He was recalled to active duty in 1961 during the Berlin crisis. He is a native of New Philadelphia.

22 Firemen Claimed

Gov. DiSalle Has A Theory

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has said publicly he lost his bid for re-election to the Ohio governorship because his administration was forced to raise taxes in 1959.

His theory about his defeat is interesting. Gov. DiSalle formerly wanted to believe there could be a rational approach to all public problems, chiefly the problem of raising enough revenue to pay for the things the state of Ohio needed to do.

To this end he held finance seminars to explain and justify the need for a higher budget. His position was logical. He argued that if Ohio chose to continue to grow and keep pace with other states its citizens would have to step up the state's rate of spending and also its rate of taxing.

Never before had the chief spokesman for a state administration been so blunt about the connection between spending and taxing. Never before had a governor gone into such detail about the philosophy of public spending and the cost of progress in education, public health, highways, capital improvements and social welfare.

IT IS EASY to understand why Gov. DiSalle thinks this was his downfall. He made it the central point in his administration—the thing he stressed above everything else. Therefore, when he was defeated he concluded that he had been defeated on the central issue of his administration.

It is doubtful if it caused his defeat. The emotional impact of the tax increase probably was dissipated in the 1960 voting.

Far likelier, he was defeated when he ran for re-election because he had been elected four years before on a political fluke—the upset that swept C. William O'Neill out of office, defeated John Bricker and confirmed the grisliest fears of those who had warned against the consequences of the right-to-work amendment.

It makes more sense to think his defeat was caused by the circumstances of his on-again-off-again decision to run; by the fact Ohio has become a strongly Republican state, as shown in its voting in the 1960 presidential election; even by the fact that Gov. DiSalle as the state's first four-year governor became the victim of Ohioans' first four-year accumulation of grievances against a state administration.

MOREOVER, since there shortly is to be an inaugural in Columbus, it has to be acknowledged that just about any candidate could have expected to finish second to a campaigner like Gov.-elect James Rhodes, who set the pace all the way and ran his race going away.

The idea of paying higher taxes is never popular. We suspect it never can be rationalized to make it seem more palatable than it actually is on an emotional basis.

But whether taxation licked Michael V. DiSalle in his bid for re-election in 1962 is questionable—deeply questionable.

No Republic, No Province

As could have been expected when Union Miniere, the Congo mining company whose profits are what the fighting is about, changed its mind about Moise Tshombe, the starch is going out of his fight for independence.

Union Miniere directors apparently decided he was not able to save their installations in Katanga. There is possibility that Tshombe, himself, forced Union Miniere to decide this by trying to work both sides of the street.

In any event, he no longer looms as the strong man of Congolese politics. Whether this will raise the political stature of Premier Cyrille Adoula is uncertain; it probably won't.

The terrible truth is that taking sides in the Congo issue is certain to be a losing proposition, no matter which side is chosen.

As the doctor-sage Albert Schweitzer has pointed out, there is nothing to take sides about because the colonial empire held together by Belgium's heavy-handed rule has disintegrated. The Republic of Congo that was to be formed out of the colonial empire never materialized in actuality.

The United Nations will be unable to carry out its mission of forcing unity, and Katanga partisans, including people in the United States calling themselves the American Committee for Aid to Katanga Freedom Fighters, will be unable to force disunity. Everybody will lose, but the main purpose will be to keep Russian Communists from moving in.

Lines of reason and emotion have become criss-crossed. The United Nations is being beaten to a pulp by critics who accuse it of everything from bestiality to bamboozling.

The Col. Blimps of Britain, the Russian Reds and the far-rightists of Belgium, France and the United States all agree wholeheartedly that the Congo should be let alone—but all for different reasons.

The Guardian of Manchester has made this summation of Britain's sorry record.

"The United States has long recognized the danger of allowing Katanga's secession to become a tacitly recognized fact and has not shrunk from the possible military action that might be needed to end it. Britain, by contrast, has given virtually no help to the United Nations, and by agreeing that U Thant's proposals would be excellent but refusing to consider enforcing them, it has deprived the proposals of all substance in Mr. Tshombe's eyes."

SOMETHING has taken on large substance in Mr. Tshombe's eyes recently, perhaps something he learned about his financial prospects from spokesmen for Union Miniere.

If this company, which once considered him to be its protector, withdraws its backing, he is at the end of his rope, just one more manifestation of chaos in a place that had independence thrust upon it before its people were ready to accept it.

Blocking Representative Democracy

Another place where the yoke of one-party politics in the Solid South has rubbed the patience out of the congressmen who run for their political lives every two years is District of Columbia administration.

The seat of the federal government is administered by the District of Columbia Committee in the House of Representatives. The committee is dominated by sure-thing Southern Democrats from South Carolina, and Texas.

These legislators, who have accumulated seniority by living in safe congressional districts, have taken it on themselves to block all proposals for district home rule. Five times since 1948 the U.S. Senate has passed home-rule bills, and five times the Solid South majority of Democratic members of the District of Columbia Committee blocked the bills.

There is even more to this than a denial of voting rights to citizens of the United States who live in the District of Columbia. The special motive for persisting in the denial is the prejudice of the dominant members of the committee against Negroes, who now constitute a numerical majority of the District of Columbia population.

President Kennedy and two predecessors, Presidents Eisenhower and Truman, have advocated home rule for the District of Columbia. Both political parties have included it in their platforms for the last four national elections.

Yet a handful of legislators strategically situated in Congress can block it by refusing to let their associates vote on it. They refuse to give representative democracy a chance to work.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Maybe I should be surprised but I'm not—over an urgent plea by the American Committee for Aid to Katanga Freedom Fighters for U.S. congressional aid. Belgian-British capital has given up on Tshombe and no longer will pay white mercenaries to run his army. The guy now is through unless new money for his operating expenses can be found elsewhere.

This is the longest time in my memory that snow has been on the ground continuously at our rural hideout. Even on hilltops where in other years it has evaporated after a few weeks, it's still white and deep.

Apropos of the woodwork painting that customarily is done at this time of year on orders of the lady I spill paint on unprotected surfaces with, I am working on an invention called demountable woodwork. You take it to the basement to paint it and when it's dry you snap it back into place.

My ardor for Jacqueline Kennedy turns cool when she becomes involved in Culture, because then it comes to me clearly that she is Couth and I am Uncouth—so much so that I don't dig the flap over the Mona Lisa. In fact, I don't even dig the inflated money value of art.

Of all the offbeat information I have picked up recently, the item I enjoyed most was Samuel Lubell's report that he couldn't find anyone who thought things were in such bad shape that the country needed to be rescued at this time by the politicians. Imagine what a pickle they'd be in if people got tired of being rescued.

I was fascinated by the description of a gadget that enabled newspaper writers to set type by pounding their typewriters—no need for paper shufflers or typographers. Then I remembered that old-timers did this routinely, setting their own stuff in type by hand before gadgetry began.

Election reforms are never-ending, but I save my enthusiasm for the one reform I believe would transform the people's attitude toward voting—changing the election date to Sunday, to get rid of the idea that voting must be crowded into a work day and therefore can't be important.

Funny thing about those Garry Moore shows that play on nostalgia for the years gone by, with old songs and sets reminding TViewers of old scenes and incidents. If it happens to be one of your favorite years it seems to have been a vintage year and you feel sorry for underprivileged people who didn't share it with you.

Long ago I ceased to worry over my inability to remember people's names, and this now is paying dividends because what seemed to be so bad it couldn't get worse has grown much worse. I'm now forgetting their faces too. The only comfort is that a lot of them don't remember me or my face either.

The True Liberal

Congress Studies Strike Curbs

By Victor Riesel

During the final days of '62, the experts reckoned that the newspaper and waterfront strikes were costing all sides some $30 million a day in lost profits, wages and other income.

Victor Riesel

For the first time this stirred liberals and conservatives alike into parallel actions — aimed at the restriction of the absolute right to strike.

Thus on Saturday, Dec. 29, Sen. McClellan dispatched his chief counsel, Jerry Adlerman, to New York City. Once there, Adlerman telephoned three mighty doughty and militant waterfront strike leaders — longshoremen's president, Bill Bradley, ex-tugboat captain, Teddy Gleason, executive vice president, and Anthony Anastasia, better known as Tough Tony, vice president. The Senate investigator asked them to come down to the federal building for discussions.

BUT THE TRIO said they were negotiating with the shipowners in a deadlocked strike which, they added, could end with the loss of more than 5,000 jobs on the New York waterfront alone.

The shipowners have countered the union with some arithmetic which states that the union's new asking price would add $300 million annually to the nation's East and Gulf Coast shipping charges.

So Adlerman and an aide went uptown. First they met in the Hotel Commodore coffee shop with Teddy Gleason, then with Bradley and Anastasia in their rooms. The longshoremen's leaders charged they were being presented by the government. But Adlerman's questioning did not substantiate this charge.

The investigator was interested in discovering for his chief, Sen. McClellan, the full impact of a two-coast dock strike on our railroads, our farms, our industries, our highways. And on the loss of customers abroad, the impact on the inflow of gold, the loss of business to our competitors in the Common Market bloc.

What McClellan wants to know is the specific effect of such strikes on the public, on the nation, on its safety, its welfare, its health.

THE SENATOR truly is a one-man inquisitive society. The waterfront is merely part of what interests him as he prepares to push in Congress for anti-strike laws.

He is also concerned by Jimmy Hoffa's drive for a common expiration date of all labor contracts covering all the nation's trucking and warehouses. Suppose, says McClellan, Hoffa said "no contract, no work" on some expiration date. How could this land function? Should any one man have the right to decide on what day most of the United States shall stand still?

"Obviously not," says McClellan with that final firm tone in his voice so many of us got to know during the big racket probe. "I'm introducing my bill about Feb. 1. We're not yet on the final draft. But, I don't think we should permit strikes in interstate transportation. I don't believe the public should suffer.

"I say that a civilized people under a system of government representative of the people should have the intellect and the courage to find a better method of resolving labor-management disputes, where vital national interest is involved, than by a test of economic power."

ON THE VERY morning of the senator's conversation with this columnist, word came that the waterfront strike had cost $400 million. On this same morning I talked to New York's liberal Republican Sen. Jack Javits. He too said he would have a labor peace bill ready within a month. He said he had been talking with some of his senatorial colleagues.

"We will introduce," said Javits, "legislation giving the president more power in a national emergency. I am doing my utmost to get others with a liberal view on labor to join me, on the ground that this (such laws) is the best way to do it.

"Our credentials are right."

In effect, Javits wants to give the president the power to name fact finding boards with authority to make public recommendations. Then if this doesn't end a national or other vital strike Javits would give the president the right to seize and operate the installations where the health, the welfare or the safety of the land is threatened.

SEN. McCLELLAN appears to be thinking more of a tribunal on which would sit industrial, labor and public representatives.

This court would have the power to settle an industrial civil war.

As for those around the President, they want a two part law. First, the president would be empowered to declare a "reasonable period" during which both sides have to get together. If they fail to agree he would have the authority to force arbitration upon them.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Liverpool Township trustees expended $9,269 in relief work during 1932, according to N. P. Kerr, chairman of the board.

James Freshwater of Boy Scout Troop 230 and Paul Edwards of Troop 39 received star badges.

A new union of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was organized, with Mrs. Della Anderson as president.

TEN YEARS AGO — Harry Watkin of McKinnon Ave., retired pottery executive, was honored by the Salvation Army Advisory Board.

William Bickle of Avondale St. won the 16th annual toy train Derby at the YMCA.

Sacrosanct Soviet

U.N. Fails To Condemn Red Move Into Cuba

The Soviet Union set up offensive missile bases in Cuba that threatened this country but the United Nations, which piously proclaims itself as the champion of moral force in the world, has decided not to speak, officially or otherwise, any word of condemnation of this flagrant act of Soviet aggression.

David Lawrence

The Security Council has dropped the matter, presumably because the Soviets can veto any action taken there. Action by the General Assembly, however, is not subject to veto by any single power. Yet nothing is to be done there either about the Soviet aggression, which many people think could have brought on a world war.

President Kennedy was commended widely in the press for having influenced the Soviets to withdraw their missiles from Cuba. Nikita Khrushchev was commended by the President himself, who described as "statesmanlike" the Soviet premier's decision to withdraw those missiles.

The American and Soviet representatives then took up the problem in New York at the U.N. and now have agreed to announce their abandonment of any further steps.

This leaves the Soviets with a distinct victory and the United States with a defeat and a reversal of its own historic policies. For the Soviets have exactly what they had before the missiles were sent into Cuba — plus a pledge by the President that there will be no military invasion of Cuba either to secure on-site inspection or to rid that country of the Soviet military base and 17,000 Soviet personnel.

They today occupy and control the first European colony established in the Western Hemisphere since the Monroe Doctrine was proclaimed by the president of the United States in 1823.

MR. KENNEDY, of course, has said that, if there is an attack from Cuba directed against any country in this hemisphere, the United States will feel free to invade Cuba and to take whatever measures elsewhere that it may decide are necessary. But, so far as activities confined to Cuba itself are concerned, the President has adopted a "no invasion" policy.

While he wants to see the people of Cuba liberated and hopes they will be some day, the United States is today committed against any military invasion to accomplish that purpose. Mr. Kennedy's last official statement on this point was read by him at the opening of his news conference on Nov. 20, 1962. He said:

"We will not, of course, abandon the political, economic and other efforts of this hemisphere to halt subversion from Cuba, nor our purpose and hope that the Cuban people shall some day be truly free. But these policies are very different from any intent to launch a military invasion of the island."

So the Soviet government's occupation of Cuba continues — with 17,000 Russians, mostly troops, along with defensive missiles and other weapons — while the United States makes no effort to get them out.

NEWS REPORTS in the last few days have erroneously stated that the United States withdrew from the United Nations negotiations without being committed against invasion. But the repetition of such a pledge was unnecessary, since the scope of it had already been outlined on Nov. 20 as the policy of the United States.

Castro was told he is free to maintain his military alliance with the Soviets. The Soviet Union was told it is free to strengthen its military base in Cuba. Thus, the potential threat against this country continues.

If the Monroe Doctrine had not been scuttled, the continued presence of any Soviet military or political forces on the island of Cuba would be considered a hostile act and subject to military action. The Monroe Doctrine banned the establishment of any European system in any country in this hemisphere. American presidents for more than a century and a half have enforced the doctrine.

THE ORGANIZATION of American States has affirmed the principles of the doctrine but, inasmuch as President Kennedy now publicly has pledged himself not to use military force to interfere with the Soviet occupation of Cuba, the other states of this hemisphere are similarly bound to do nothing. Not since the Monroe Doctrine was proclaimed has any European power successfully invaded the Western Hemisphere, set up a military base with its own troops and maintained control of the civilian government of any country, as has just happened in Cuba.

The United Nations has authorized its military forces to intervene in such situations as have arisen in the half-civilized Congo, but not a single resolution condemning the Soviet aggression has even been sponsored in the United Nations by any government, including that of the United States.

Though the charter has in it many high-sounding phrases about dealing with threats against the peace of the world, the U.N. seems to have lost its vocal chords where the Soviet Union is concerned.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

When I read your editorial Monday concerning "Railroads Must Be Logical" I asked myself, Why was this article about the alleged plight of the large railroad corporations placed in The Review?

I suspect it is part of the railroads' million - dollar - plus public relation experiment that started with the featherbed hoax and will end when the public makes it known that the smokescreen did not work.

If I was a large stockholder and interested in a quick profit only then I could agree it is a "happy omen that the first step in one of the great eastern mergers has been taken". I cannot see anything logical about loss of wages, taxes and service, which will happen if these proposed mergers become a fact.

Will one large railroad in the east make it a better place to live? I believe the former editorials about free enterprise and competition held more logic.

What is logical about the largest railroad in the nation having to "merge or perish"

I cannot find anything logical in the editorial. It seems the blows that are being struck are for a quick profit and not for logic.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I am a junior at Chester High School and I feel I have a right to express my opinion.

I don't think our city councilmen are going at this little deal in Chester the right way. Maybe the two institutions that they have been raiding and raising such a fuss about aren't the best places in town, but I don't think either one of them has a gang out in front pulling people in and setting them up to the bar and pouring drinks down them.

I don't believe there is anyone taking money from a guy's pocket and standing him up in front of a slot machine and making him play.

Sure this isn't right, but you can't change things over night. Although it should be stopped, I don't think this can be done by taking out good police who have had experience and training and putting in two without it.

But let me tell you something: I don't feel it should only be the two biggest places in town. It should be some of these little joints. I know of one of the biggest spots in town that has helped lots of families when they needed it, not a week late. This same place sends kids to college who don't have the funds to attend.

Everyone is complaining about minors buying beer and other drinks in town, but I have seen it where a 16-or-17-year-old boy can walk into a lot of the small-time bars in this town and get served. But I don't think any minor can walk into the two they're blaming.

Another thing, when our brilliant city Council brings in outside help for our police force it just shows that we have lost control of our town.

This may help for a while. They might clean out the bars, but unless we get councilmen who will work together and a capable police force our little town will never be the same.

Gov. DiSalle Has A Theory

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has said publicly he lost his bid for re-election to the Ohio governorship because his administration was forced to raise taxes in 1959.

His theory about his defeat is interesting. Gov. DiSalle formerly wanted to believe there could be a rational approach to all public problems, chiefly the problem of raising enough revenue to pay for the things the state of Ohio needed to do.

To this end he held finance seminars to explain and justify the need for a higher budget. His position was logical. He argued that if Ohio chose to continue to grow and keep pace with other states its citizens would have to step up the state's rate of spending and also its rate of taxing.

Never before had the chief spokesman for a state administration been so blunt about the connection between spending and taxing. Never before had a governor gone into such detail about the philosophy of public spending and the cost of progress in education, public health, highways, capital improvements and social welfare.

IT IS EASY to understand why Gov. DiSalle thinks this was his downfall. He made it the central point in his administration—the thing he stressed above everything else. Therefore, when he was defeated he concluded that he had been defeated on the central issue of his administration.

It is doubtful if it caused his defeat. The emotional impact of the tax increase probably was dissipated in the 1960 voting.

Far likelier, he was defeated when he ran for re-election because he had been elected four years before on a political fluke—the upset that swept C. William O'Neill out of office, defeated John Bricker and confirmed the grisliest fears of those who had warned against the consequences of the right-to-work amendment.

It makes more sense to think his defeat was caused by the circumstances of his on-again-off-again decision to run; by the fact Ohio has become a strongly Republican state, as shown in its voting in the 1960 presidential election; even by the fact that Gov. DiSalle as the state's first four-year governor became the victim of Ohioans' first four-year accumulation of grievances against a state administration.

MOREOVER, since there shortly is to be an inaugural in Columbus, it has to be acknowledged that just about any candidate could have expected to finish second to a campaigner like Gov.-elect James Rhodes, who set the pace all the way and ran his race going away.

The idea of paying higher taxes is never popular. We suspect it never can be rationalized to make it seem more palatable than it actually is on an emotional basis.

But whether taxation licked Michael V. DiSalle in his bid for re-election in 1962 is questionable—deeply questionable.

No Republic, No Province

As could have been expected when Union Miniere, the Congo mining company whose profits are what the fighting is about, changed its mind about Moise Tshombe, the starch is going out of his fight for independence.

Union Miniere directors apparently decided he was not able to save their installations in Katanga. There is possibility that Tshombe, himself, forced Union Miniere to decide this by trying to work both sides of the street.

In any event, he no longer looms as the strong man of Congolese politics. Whether this will raise the political stature of Premier Cyrille Adoula is uncertain; it probably won't.

The terrible truth is that taking sides in the Congo issue is certain to be a losing proposition, no matter which side is chosen.

As the doctor-sage Albert Schweitzer has pointed out, there is nothing to take sides about because the colonial empire held together by Belgium's heavy-handed rule has disintegrated. The Republic of Congo that was to be formed out of the colonial empire never materialized in actuality.

THE CONGO is a republic only in name. Katanga is a province only in name.

The United Nations will be unable to carry out its mission of forcing unity, and Katanga partisans, including people in the United States calling themselves the American Committee for Aid to Katanga Freedom Fighters, will be unable to force disunity. Everybody will lose, but the main purpose will be to keep Russian Communists from moving in.

Lines of reason and emotion have become criss-crossed. The United Nations is being beaten to a pulp by critics who accuse it of everything from bestiality to bamboozling.

The Col. Blimps of Britain, the Russian Reds and the far-rightists of Belgium, France and the United States all agree wholeheartedly that the Congo should be let alone—but all for different reasons.

The Guardian of Manchester has made this summation of Britain's sorry record.

"The United States has long recognized the danger of allowing Katanga's secession to become a tacitly recognized fact and has not shrunk from the possible military action that might be needed to end it. Britain, by contrast, has given virtually no help to the United Nations, and by agreeing that U Thant's proposals would be excellent but refusing to consider enforcing them, it has deprived the proposals of all substance in Mr. Tshombe's eyes."

SOMETHING has taken on large substance in Mr. Tshombe's eyes recently, perhaps something he learned about his financial prospects from spokesmen for Union Miniere.

If this company, which once considered him to be its protector, withdraws its backing, he is at the end of his rope, just one more manifestation of chaos in a place that had independence thrust upon it before its people were ready to accept it.

Blocking Representative Democracy

Another place where the yoke of one-party politics in the Solid South has rubbed the patience out of the congressmen who run for their political lives every two years is District of Columbia administration.

The seat of the federal government is administered by the District of Columbia Committee in the House of Representatives. The committee is dominated by sure-thing Southern Democrats from South Carolina, and Texas.

These legislators, who have accumulated seniority by living in safe congressional districts, have taken it on themselves to block all proposals for district home rule. Five times since 1948 the U.S. Senate has passed home-rule bills, and five times the Solid South majority of Democratic members of the District of Columbia Committee blocked the bills.

There is even more to this than a denial of voting rights to citizens of the United States who live in the District of Columbia. The special motive for persisting in the denial is the prejudice of the dominant members of the committee against Negroes, who now constitute a numerical majority of the District of Columbia population.

President Kennedy and two predecessors, Presidents Eisenhower and Truman, have advocated home rule for the District of Columbia. Both political parties have included it in their platforms for the last four national elections.

Yet a handful of legislators strategically situated in Congress can block it by refusing to let their associates vote on it. They refuse to give representative democracy a chance to work.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Maybe I should be surprised but I'm not—over an urgent plea by the American Committee for Aid to Katanga Freedom Fighters for U.S. congressional aid. Belgian-British capital has given up on Tshombe and no longer will pay white mercenaries to run his army. The guy now is through unless new money for his operating expenses can be found elsewhere.

This is the longest time in my memory that snow has been on the ground continuously at our rural hideout. Even on hilltops where in other years it has evaporated after a few weeks, it's still white and deep.

Apropos of the woodwork painting that customarily is done at this time of year on orders of the lady I spill paint on unprotected surfaces with, I am working on an invention called demountable woodwork. You take it to the basement to paint it and when it's dry you snap it back into place.

My ardor for Jacqueline Kennedy turns cool when she becomes involved in Culture, because then it comes to me clearly that she is Couth and I am Uncouth—so much so that I don't dig the flap over the Mona Lisa. In fact, I don't even dig the inflated money value of art.

Of all the offbeat information I have picked up recently, the item I enjoyed most was Samuel Lubell's report that he couldn't find anyone who thought things were in such bad shape that the country needed to be rescued at this time by the politicians. Imagine what a pickle they'd be in if people got tired of being rescued.

I was fascinated by the description of a gadget that enabled newspaper writers to set type by pounding their typewriters—no need for paper shufflers or typographers. Then I remembered that old-timers did this routinely, setting their own stuff in type by hand before gadgetry began.

Election reforms are never-ending, but I save my enthusiasm for the one reform I believe would transform the people's attitude toward voting—changing the election date to Sunday, to get rid of the idea that voting must be crowded into a work day and therefore can't be important.

Funny thing about those Garry Moore shows that play on nostalgia for the years gone by, with old songs and sets reminding TViewers of old scenes and incidents. If it happens to be one of your favorite years it seems to have been a vintage year and you feel sorry for underprivileged people who didn't share it with you.

Long ago I ceased to worry over my inability to remember people's names, and this now is paying dividends because what seemed to be so bad it couldn't get worse has grown much worse. I'm now forgetting their faces too. The only comfort is that a lot of them don't remember me or my face either.

The True Liberal

Congress Studies Strike Curbs

By Victor Riesel

During the final days of '62, the experts reckoned that the newspaper and waterfront strikes were costing all sides some $30 million a day in lost profits, wages and other income.

Victor Riesel

For the first time this stirred liberals and conservatives alike into parallel actions — aimed at the restriction of the absolute right to strike.

Thus on Saturday, Dec. 29, Sen. McClellan dispatched his chief counsel, Jerry Adlerman, to New York City. Once there, Adlerman telephoned three mighty doughty and militant waterfront strike leaders — longshoremen's president, Bill Bradley, ex-tugboat captain, Teddy Gleason, executive vice president, and Anthony Anastasia, better known as Tough Tony, vice president. The Senate investigator asked them to come down to the federal building for discussions.

BUT THE TRIO said they were negotiating with the shipowners in a deadlocked strike which, they added, could end with the loss of more than 5,000 jobs on the New York waterfront alone.

The shipowners have countered the union with some arithmetic which states that the union's new asking price would add $300 million annually to the nation's East and Gulf Coast shipping charges.

So Adlerman and an aide went uptown. First they met in the Hotel Commodore coffee shop with Teddy Gleason, then with Bradley and Anastasia in their rooms. The longshoremen's leaders charged they were being presented by the government. But Adlerman's questioning did not substantiate this charge.

The investigator was interested in discovering for his chief, Sen. McClellan, the full impact of a two-coast dock strike on our railroads, our farms, our industries, our highways. And on the loss of customers abroad, the impact on the inflow of gold, the loss of business to our competitors in the Common Market bloc.

What McClellan wants to know is the specific effect of such strikes on the public, on the nation, on its safety, its welfare, its health.

THE SENATOR truly is a one-man inquisitive society. The waterfront is merely part of what interests him as he prepares to push in Congress for anti-strike laws.

He is also concerned by Jimmy Hoffa's drive for a common expiration date of all labor contracts covering all the nation's trucking and warehouses. Suppose, says McClellan, Hoffa said "no contract, no work" on some expiration date. How could this land function? Should any one man have the right to decide on what day most of the United States shall stand still?

"Obviously not," says McClellan with that final firm tone in his voice so many of us got to know during the big racket probe. "I'm introducing my bill about Feb. 1. We're not yet on the final draft. But, I don't think we should permit strikes in interstate transportation. I don't believe the public should suffer.

"I say that a civilized people under a system of government representative of the people should have the intellect and the courage to find a better method of resolving labor-management disputes, where vital national interest is involved, than by a test of economic power."

ON THE VERY morning of the senator's conversation with this columnist, word came that the waterfront strike had cost $400 million. On this same morning I talked to New York's liberal Republican Sen. Jack Javits. He too said he would have a labor peace bill ready within a month. He said he had been talking with some of his senatorial colleagues.

"We will introduce," said Javits, "legislation giving the president more power in a national emergency. I am doing my utmost to get others with a liberal view on labor to join me, on the ground that this (such laws) is the best way to do it.

"Our credentials are right."

In effect, Javits wants to give the president the power to name fact finding boards with authority to make public recommendations. Then if this doesn't end a national or other vital strike Javits would give the president the right to seize and operate the installations where the health, the welfare or the safety of the land is threatened.

SEN. McCLELLAN appears to be thinking more of a tribunal on which would sit industrial, labor and public representatives.

This court would have the power to settle an industrial civil war.

As for those around the President, they want a two part law. First, the president would be empowered to declare a "reasonable period" during which both sides have to get together. If they fail to agree he would have the authority to force arbitration upon them.

Sacrosanct Soviet

U.N. Fails To Condemn Red Move Into Cuba

The Soviet Union set up offensive missile bases in Cuba that threatened this country but the United Nations, which piously proclaims itself as the champion of moral force in the world, has decided not to speak, officially or otherwise, any word of condemnation of this flagrant act of Soviet aggression.

David Lawrence

The Security Council has dropped the matter, presumably because the Soviets can veto any action taken there. Action by the General Assembly, however, is not subject to veto by any single power. Yet nothing is to be done there either about the Soviet aggression, which many people think could have brought on a world war.

President Kennedy was commended widely in the press for having influenced the Soviets to withdraw their missiles from Cuba. Nikita Khrushchev was commended by the President himself, who described as "statesmanlike" the Soviet premier's decision to withdraw those missiles.

The American and Soviet representatives then took up the problem in New York at the U.N. and now have agreed to announce their abandonment of any further steps.

This leaves the Soviets with a distinct victory and the United States with a defeat and a reversal of its own historic policies. For the Soviets have exactly what they had before the missiles were sent into Cuba — plus a pledge by the President that there will be no military invasion of Cuba either to secure on-site inspection or to rid that country of the Soviet military base and 17,000 Soviet personnel.

They today occupy and control the first European colony established in the Western Hemisphere since the Monroe Doctrine was proclaimed by the president of the United States in 1823.

MR. KENNEDY, of course, has said that, if there is an attack from Cuba directed against any country in this hemisphere, the United States will feel free to invade Cuba and to take whatever measures elsewhere that it may decide are necessary. But, so far as activities confined to Cuba itself are concerned, the President has adopted a "no invasion" policy.

While he wants to see the people of Cuba liberated and hopes they will be some day, the United States is today committed against any military invasion to accomplish that purpose. Mr. Kennedy's last official statement on this point was read by him at the opening of his news conference on Nov. 20, 1962. He said: "We will not, of course, abandon the political, economic and other efforts of this hemisphere to halt subversion from Cuba, nor our purpose and hope that the Cuban people shall some day be truly free. But these policies are very different from any intent to launch a military invasion of the island."

So the Soviet government's occupation of Cuba continues — with 17,000 Russians, mostly troops, along with defensive missiles and other weapons — while the United States makes no effort to get them out.

NEWS REPORTS in the last few days have erroneously stated that the United States withdrew from the United Nations negotiations without being committed against invasion. But the repetition of such a pledge was unnecessary, since the scope of it had already been outlined on Nov. 20 as the policy of the United States.

Castro was told he is free to maintain his military alliance with the Soviets. The Soviet Union was told it is free to strengthen its military base in Cuba. Thus, the potential threat against this country continues.

If the Monroe Doctrine had not been scuttled, the continued presence of any Soviet military or political forces on the island of Cuba would be considered a hostile act and subject to military action. The Monroe Doctrine banned the establishment of any European system in any country in this hemisphere. American presidents for more than a century and a half have enforced the doctrine.

THE ORGANIZATION of American States has affirmed the principles of the doctrine but, inasmuch as President Kennedy now publicly has pledged himself not to use military force to interfere with the Soviet occupation of Cuba, the other states of this hemisphere are similarly bound to do nothing. Not since the Monroe Doctrine was proclaimed has any European power successfully invaded the Western Hemisphere, set up a military base with its own troops and maintained control of the civilian government of any country, as has just happened in Cuba.

The United Nations has authorized its military forces to intervene in such situations as have arisen in the half-civilized Congo, but not a single resolution condemning the Soviet aggression has even been sponsored in the United Nations by any government, including that of the United States.

Though the charter has in it many high-sounding phrases about dealing with threats against the peace of the world, the U.N. seems to have lost its vocal chords where the Soviet Union is concerned.

Among 16 Retirees

City Man Retires With 45 Years At Crucible

William L. Polk of East Liverpool, with nearly 45 years service, heads a list of 16 retirees of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. who have combined services of 392 years.

His first job was that of car checker in the transportation department in 1918.

He went to the machine shop in 1922 and to maintenance at the finishing mills in 1927. He was maintenance foreman since 1929.

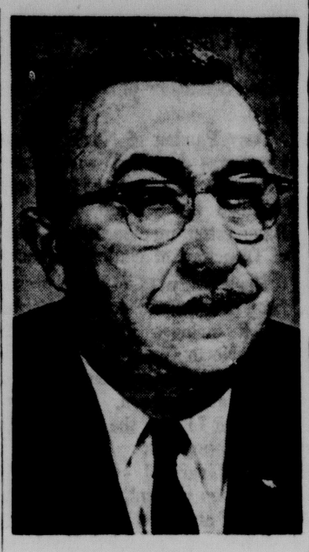

Polk has three sons and a daughter. One son, William T. Polk, of East Liverpool is an electrical leader in the cold strip at Midland with about 15 years service.

Two other sons, both graduates of Ohio University at Athens, are engineers. Robert Polk of Los Angeles, Calif., is with North American Aviation and Richard Polk of Great Neck, N. Y., is with the Gyro Corp. His daughter, Mrs. Fred Woessner, resides near San Francisco.

Polk also has five grandchildren. His wife operates the Thompson Hotel. A life - long resident of East Liverpool, he plans to retire in Florida sometime next year.

Arthur D. Murphy of Bridgeville, superintendent of safety - employe relations, retired with 43 years service.

The retirees also include five others from East Liverpool, three from Midland, five from Pittsburgh and one from Johnstown. They are:

WILLIAM POLK
Entered Midland Mill In 1918.

Drew A. Nance, 436 Penn Ave., Midland, laborer - construction, 33 years.

William L. Snodgrass, turn foreman, 36 years; Jerry G. Cunningham, tag maker, 26 years; Okey Ludwig, turn foreman, 20 years; Roy A. Gieseler, turn foreman, 13 years, and Raymond R. Allison, stopper maker, 22 years, all of East Liverpool.

Two others from Midland are Damjan Aralica, clean-up, 17 years, and Ulysses Williams, laborer - construction, 15 years.

City To Close Tree Pickups

Street department crews are scheduled to complete work Friday on the annual citywide collection of discarded Christmas trees, which started Monday.

The trucks will cover these streets:

Ravine St., Fawcett St., Bradshaw Ave., Ambrose Ave., Huston Ave., Laurel Alley, Bank St., Chester Ave., Riley Ave., Minerva St., Illinois Ave., Oak St.

Morton St., Avondale St., Cadmus St., Sophia St., Daisy Alley, McKinnon Ave., Riverview St., Perry Ave., North St., Pope Ave., Montgomery Ave. and Jennings Ave.

The city makes the collection each year to provide householders with a convenient method of disposal of approximately 7,000 trees. In the years before the collection started, many of the trees wound up on vacant lots or were tossed into gutters, blocking storm sewer drops.

Most of the trees were hauled to the city's landfill dump in Bloomfield. Three truckloads were taken to the East Liverpool Beagle Club grounds on the Y. & O. Rd. to help provide winter cover for wildlife.

Trailer License Sale Lags With 97 Issued

LISBON — Auditor Kenneth Bell said only 97 trailer licenses have been purchased for 1963. The final deadline is Jan. 30.

Last year, 670 licenses were issued. All owners must bring their titles with them when they apply for licenses so that the tax can be figured.

Any person using a trailer as a residence must purchase a license, Bell said.

Motorist Gets 30-Day Term, Fine Of $300

A 48-year-old East End man who allegedly ignored two warnings from a patrolman to leave his car parked and then was jailed on a drunken driving charge for the second time in a little over three months was given an unusually severe penalty when he appeared today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Melvin L. Harris, 1071 Pennsylvania Ave., was fined $300 and costs, sentenced to 30 days in jail and his operator's permit was suspended for a year. He pleaded "no contest" on the charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol filed Saturday by Patrolmen Karl W. Samples and Howard Frontz.

Protesting that he will lose his job in Koppel, Pa., because of the license suspension, Harris told Judge Chertoff: "That will cut my throat . . ."

"You could have cut someone else's throat, driving a car in your condition," the judge replied.

He was arrested at 4:04 a. m. Saturday on Pennsylvania Ave., police reported. A notation on the rear of Harris' driver's license showed he was convicted of driving while intoxicated in Marietta Municipal Court last Sept. 17.

Officer Samples testified he observed Harris twice attempt to drive away in his car, which was parked in Diamond Alley. He said he believed Harris was too drunk to drive, so he warned him on both occasions to leave the car parked and go home some other way.

Later, he said, he and Officer Frontz were dispatched to East End in a cruiser. It was then, he testified, that he observed Harris seated in his parked car with the headlights on. When he questioned Harris, he said, the motorist drove the car a short distance to a vacant lot and then got out. He then was placed under arrest, the officer testified.

Harris was represented by Atty. Donald E. Smith. He originally was arraigned Monday morning, but obtained a continuance until today to obtain counsel.

Gestapo was an abbreviation of "Geheime Staatspolizei", meaning "secret state police".

10 Land Cases Filed For Salem Overhead

LISBON — Ten appropriation cases were filed in Common Pleas Court Wednesday by the State Highway Department, asking that hearings be set to determine compensation and damages for land necessary to construct a crossing over the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks in Salem.

The state, unable to come to any agreement, sued to have the court decide the compensation and damages.

The land owners are mainly Salem residents, a couple of industries and businesses and a bank.

Ohio Power To Complete City Project For $92,000

The Ohio Power Co. said today its $36-million construction program for 1963 will include $92,000 to finish the expansion of facilities in the East Liverpool area.

This will bring the total cost to $745,000 in furnishing a new 138,000-volt source of electric power.

Included in the company's construction blueprint are several other projects in the Eastern Division, with headquarters in Steubenville.

Again this year, the bulk of the expenditures will go for the construction and modernization of facilities to bring electric power from generating stations to residential, commercial, industrial and other customers.

"Less than $2 million of this year's construction budget will be spent at our power plants," W. S. Welday, manager of the Eastern Division, said.

"More than $30½ million of the total will be used for transmission and distribution lines and for the substation facilities required to handle the power along those lines."

"We have compiled larger budgets in the past decade," Welday said, "but in those cases well over half the total amounts were earmarked for power plant construction. Never in our long history have we budgeted such a large amount for the enlargment and modernization of our transmission facilities."

Ohio Power currently is working on seven projects including three ranging between $4½ million and $6½ million. Five others bear price tags in excess of $500,000.

He said that $104,000 of a $137,000 expansion in the Barnesville vicinity will be spent in 1963.

Conversion of the distribution voltage in the Robyville area to 12,000 volts will be completed this year at a total cost of $151,000. Approximately half that sum was invested last year.

Ohio Power will continue a company-wide program of rehabilitating its transmission facilities in 1963. Started late in 1961, the work in the Eastern Division this year will require expenditure of $308,000 of a total cost of $468,000.

Scout Roundtable Airs Plans For February Observances

Plans for the annual Boy Scout anniversary observance in February were aired at a meeting of the Cherokee Boy Scout District Roundtable meeting Wednesday night at the YMCA.

About 65 attended the session with Bill Jones, assistant district commissioner, in charge.

Bill Rayburn, camping and activities chairman, spoke on national Scout Week to be observed Feb. 7-13 in the area. All units were urged to have window displays.

Albert Ferguson of Chester was introduced as a new neighborhood commissioner. Tom Snow, district chairman, thanked leaders for efforts of the past year, and Frank Rossi stressed the need to register all 59 units for 1963.

Mrs. Mary Jones was in charge of the den mothers' session which 40 attended. It was announced critiques on Blue and Gold decorations will be held at February and March meetings.

Among 16 Retirees

City Man Retires With 45 Years At Crucible

William L. Polk of East Liverpool, with nearly 45 years service, heads a list of 16 retirees of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. who have combined services of 392 years.

His first job was that of car checker in the transportation department in 1918.

He went to the machine shop in 1922 and to maintenance at the finishing mills in 1927. He was maintenance foreman since 1929.

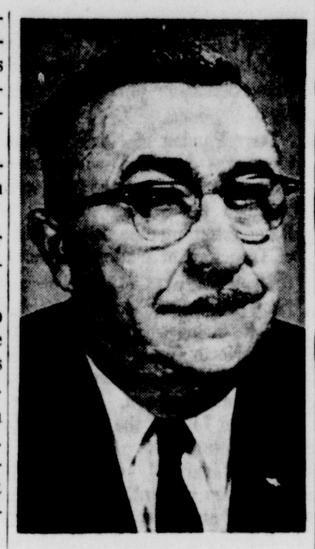

Polk has three sons and a daughter. One son, William T. Polk, of East Liverpool is an electrical leader in the cold strip at Midland with about 15 years service.

Two other sons, both graduates of Ohio University at Athens, are engineers. Robert Polk of Los Angeles, Calif., is with North American Aviation and Richard Polk of Great Neck, N. Y., is with the Gyro Corp. His daughter, Mrs. Fred Woessner, resides near San Francisco.

Polk also has five grandchildren. His wife operates the Thompson Hotel. A life - long resident of East Liverpool, he plans to retire in Florida sometime next year.

Arthur D. Murphy of Bridgeville, superintendent of safety - employe relations, retired with 43 years service.

The retirees also include five others from East Liverpool, three from Midland, five from Pittsburgh and one from Johnstown. They are:

WILLIAM POLK
Entered Midland Mill In 1918.

Drew A. Nance, 436 Penn Ave., Midland, laborer - construction, 33 years.

William L. Snodgrass, turn foreman, 36 years; Jerry G. Cunningham, tag maker, 26 years; Okey Ludwig, turn foreman, 20 years; Roy A. Gieseler, turn foreman, 13 years, and Raymond R. Allison, stopper maker, 22 years, all of East Liverpool.

Two others from Midland are Damjan Aralica, clean-up, 17 years, and Ulysses Williams, laborer - construction, 15 years.

City To Close Tree Pickups

Street department crews are scheduled to complete work Friday on the annual citywide collection of discarded Christmas trees, which started Monday.

The trucks will cover these streets:

Ravine St., Fawcett St., Bradshaw Ave., Ambrose Ave., Huston Ave., Laurel Alley, Bank St., Chester Ave., Riley Ave., Minerva St., Illinois Ave., Oak St.

Morton St., Avondale St., Cadmus St., Sophia St., Daisy Alley, McKinnon Ave., Riverview St., Perry Ave., North St., Pope Ave., Montgomery Ave. and Jennings Ave.

The city makes the collection each year to provide householders with a convenient method of disposal of approximately 7,000 trees. In the years before the collection started, many of the trees wound up on vacant lots or were tossed into gutters, blocking storm sewer drops.

Most of the trees were hauled to the city's landfill dump in Bloomfield. Three truckloads were taken to the East Liverpool Beagle Club grounds on the Y. & O. Rd. to help provide winter cover for wildlife.

Trailer License Sale Lags With 97 Issued

LISBON — Auditor Kenneth Bell said only 97 trailer licenses have been purchased for 1963. The final deadline is Jan. 30.

Last year, 670 licenses were issued. All owners must bring their titles with them when they apply for licenses so that the tax can be figured.

Any person using a trailer as a residence must purchase a license, Bell said.

Motorist Gets 30-Day Term, Fine Of $300

A 48-year-old East End man who allegedly ignored two warnings from a patrolman to leave his car parked and then was jailed on a drunken driving charge for the second time in a little over three months was given an unusually severe penalty when he appeared today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Melvin L. Harris, 1071 Pennsylvania Ave., was fined $300 and costs, sentenced to 30 days in jail and his operator's permit was suspended for a year. He pleaded "no contest" on the charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol filed Saturday by Patrolmen Karl W. Samples and Howard Frontz.

Protesting that he will lose his job in Koppel, Pa., because of the license suspension, Harris told Judge Chertoff: "That will cut my throat . . ."

"You could have cut someone else's throat, driving a car in your condition," the judge replied.

He was arrested at 4:04 a. m. Saturday on Pennsylvania Ave., police reported. A notation on the rear of Harris' driver's license showed he was convicted of driving while intoxicated in Marietta Municipal Court last Sept. 17.

Officer Samples testified he observed Harris twice attempt to drive away in his car, which was parked in Diamond Alley. He said he believed Harris was too drunk to drive, so he warned him on both occasions to leave the car parked and go home some other way.

Later, he said, he and Officer Frontz were dispatched to East End in a cruiser. It was then, he testified, that he observed Harris seated in his parked car with the headlights on. When he questioned Harris, he said, the motorist drove the car a short distance to a vacant lot and then got out. He then was placed under arrest, the officer testified.

Harris was represented by Atty. Donald E. Smith. He originally was arraigned Monday morning, but obtained a continuance until today to obtain counsel.

Gestapo was an abbreviation of "Geheime Staatspolizei", meaning "secret state police".

10 Land Cases Filed For Salem Overhead

LISBON — Ten appropriation cases were filed in Common Pleas Court Wednesday by the State Highway Department, asking that hearings be set to determine compensation and damages for land necessary to construct a crossing over the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks in Salem.

The state, unable to come to any agreement, sued to have the court decide the compensation and damages.

The land owners are mainly Salem residents, a couple of industries and businesses and a bank.

Auto Theft

Mikeals first insisted the auto belonged to a friend, but under questioning he admitted it had been stolen, police said.

Officer Carter said he also learned Mikeals had stolen a license plate, L-322-X, from the auto of Harold Green of Salineville while it was parked about 9:30 last night in Crook Alley near E. 3rd St. He said Mikeals removed a tire, wheel and jack from the Smuz auto, accounting for the second larceny charge.

While investigated the halted auto and talking with Mikeals, Officer Carter decided to check out a passerby. It was then, he said, he found the .32 caliber pistol on Wasson.

Both Mikeals and Wasson requested time to obtain counsel when arraigned this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Judge Chertoff set the hearings for 9 a. m. Monday. He fixed bonds totaling $2,000 for Mikeals and a $5,000 surety was set for Wasson.

The judge set a $1,000 bond for Mikeals on a charge of operating an auto without the owner's consent. On the two larceny charges, he set bonds of $500 each. Neither man entered a plea.

mercury dropped below freezing, condensing moisture created by the relatively mild temperatures earlier last night. The downtown had a 31 reading at 6 a. m. and parking lots and some streets were coated white.

A spokesman at the garage said the mercury may soar to 56 today with rain likely tonight and more rain Friday then turning to light snow.

The Ohio weatherman, however, forecast a high range of 39 to 44 today and colder tonight with a low of 28 to 32 and scattered snow flurries. That forecast also calls for light snow tomorrow.

Icy Pavement Blamed After 2 Autos Collide

A thin coat of ice that caused both autos to slide was blamed for a minor collision at 8:04 a. m. today at Armstrong Ln. and Park Way, police said.

The mishap involved a 1955 four-door sedan driven by Flora Mae Christian, 1194 Erie St., and a 1959 station wagon operated by Fred G. Simmen, 37, of Oakmont, officers said.

There was damage to the left front of each vehicle, officers said. Both drivers said their autos skidded on a thin coat of ice before the collision.

Assets Increase At East Palestine Financial Firms

EAST PALESTINE — Both the Union Commercial & Savings Bank and the East Palestine Savings & Loan Association reported substantial increases in assets at annual meetings Wednesday night when directors and officers were returned.

The Savings & Loan Association reported assets of $7,644,000, the highest total in the firm's history and an increase of $600,000 over the previous year.

Re-elected as directors were J. R. Wilhelm, T. J. Read, Charles W. Gandy and W. E. Forney. Other directors are H. E. Gleckler, J. E. Ward and R. D. McCommon. Salary for the directors, who will elect Jan. 21, was set at $750.

At the Union Bank, assets of $4.7 million were reported, a rise of $400,000 over 1962.

All directors were re-elected, and they in turn returned R. V. Beck as president; J. R. Wilhelm as vice president, and R. C. Mason as cashier.

St. Paul, Minn., is the nation's biggest publisher of calendars and law books.

Ruritan Seats Winona Man

LISBON — Franklin Henderson of Winona was installed as lieutenant governor of Zone 4 for 1963 at a zone officers meeting of Ruritan Clubs Wednesday evening in the Morgan House of the First Christian Church. He succeeds Ralph Schneider of North Georgetown.

Tony Pandon of North Georgetown was installed as assistant lieutenant governor and both were installed by Richard Speidel of Hanoverton, member of the Board of Directors of National Ruritan.

There were 43 officers present from the 10 clubs in district 4, which includes Pughtown, Guilford, North Georgetown, Winona, Salineville, Hanoverton, Liverpool-Calcutta, Southern, West Township and Lisbon, the host club for the meeting.

The Liverpool - Calcutta Club had seven present, largest attendance of any.

Schneider was also moderator of a panel discussion on "Operation of a Ruritan Club." The panel consisted of Richard Brian, Liverpool - Calcutta; Pandon, North Georgetown, and Bruce Kesslar, Essel Hadley and Harold Pickering, all of the Lisbon Club.

Next meeting of Zone 4 officers will be held in April, with time and place to be announced, according to Richard Nichol of the Lisbon club, secretary.

Salem Man Involved In Pittsburgh Theft

PITTSBURGH — Three Ohio men, including one from Salem, and a Pittsburgh resident have been jailed here to await hearing on charges of attempting to steal $2,500 worth of tools from the Power Tool & Supply Co. in the Oakland section.

Charged with burglary were Daniel Boscia, 49, of Pittsburgh; James Mallory, 37, of Youngstown, Emil Dinsio, 26, of Polland, and his brother, James, 33, of Salem.

Police said the men piled the tools on the sidewalk Wednesday but grew suspicious and fled in a station wagon, leaving the tools behind. They were captured about a block away.

Auto Theft

Mikeals first insisted the auto belonged to a friend, but under questioning he admitted it had been stolen, police said.

Officer Carter said he also learned Mikeals had stolen a license plate, L-322-X, from the auto of Harold Green of Salineville while it was parked about 9:30 last night in Crook Alley near E. 3rd St. He said Mikeals removed a tire, wheel and jack from the Smuz auto, accounting for the second larceny charge.

While investigated the halted auto and talking with Mikeals, Officer Carter decided to check out a passerby. It was then, he said, he found the .32 caliber pistol on Wasson.

Both Mikeals and Wasson requested time to obtain counsel when arraigned this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Judge Chertoff set the hearings for 9 a. m. Monday. He fixed bonds totaling $2,000 for Mikeals and a $5,000 surety was set for Wasson.

The judge set a $1,000 bond for Mikeals on a charge of operating an auto without the owner's consent. On the two larceny charges, he set bonds of $500 each. Neither man entered a plea.

mercury dropped below freezing, condensing moisture created by the relatively mild temperatures earlier last night. The downtown had a 31 reading at 6 a. m. and parking lots and some streets were coated white.

A spokesman at the garage said the mercury may soar to 56 today with rain likely tonight and more rain Friday then turning to light snow.

The Ohio weatherman, however, forecast a high range of 39 to 44 today and colder tonight with a low of 28 to 32 and scattered snow flurries. That forecast also calls for light snow tomorrow.

Icy Pavement Blamed After 2 Autos Collide

A thin coat of ice that caused both autos to slide was blamed for a minor collision at 8:04 a. m. today at Armstrong Ln. and Park Way, police said.

The mishap involved a 1955 four-door sedan driven by Flora Mae Christian, 1194 Erie St., and a 1959 station wagon operated by Fred G. Simmen, 37, of Oakmont, officers said.

There was damage to the left front of each vehicle, officers said. Both drivers said their autos skidded on a thin coat of ice before the collision.

Assets Increase At East Palestine Financial Firms

EAST PALESTINE — Both the Union Commercial & Savings Bank and the East Palestine Savings & Loan Association reported substantial increases in assets at annual meetings Wednesday night when directors and officers were returned.

The Savings & Loan Association reported assets of $7,644,000, the highest total in the firm's history and an increase of $600,000 over the previous year.

Re-elected as directors were J. R. Wilhelm, T. J. Read, Charles W. Gandy and W. E. Forney. Other directors are H. E. Gleckler, J. E. Ward and R. D. McCommon. Salary for the directors, who will elect Jan. 21, was set at $750.

At the Union Bank, assets of $4.7 million were reported, a rise of $400,000 over 1961.

All directors were re-elected, and they in turn returned R. V. Beck as president; J. R. Wilhelm as vice president, and R. C. Mason as cashier.

Ruritan Seats Winona Man

LISBON — Franklin Henderson of Winona was installed as lieutenant governor of Zone 4 for 1963 at a zone officers meeting of Ruritan Clubs Wednesday evening in the Morgan House of the First Christian Church. He succeeds Ralph Schneider of North Georgetown.

Tony Pandon of North Georgetown was installed as assistant lieutenant governor and both were installed by Richard Speidel of Hanoverton, member of the Board of Directors of National Ruritan.

There were 43 officers present from the 10 clubs in district 4, which includes Pughtown, Guilford, North Georgetown, Winona, Salineville, Hanoverton, Liverpool-Calcutta, Southern, West Township and Lisbon, the host club for the meeting.

The Liverpool - Calcutta Club had seven present, largest attendance of any.

Schneider presented Henderson with the lieutenant governor's pin.

Schneider was also moderator of a panel discussion on "Operation of a Ruritan Club." The panel consisted of Richard Brian, Liverpool - Calcutta; Pandon, North Georgetown, and Bruce Kesslar, Essel Hadley and Harold Pickering, all of the Lisbon Club.

Next meeting of Zone 4 officers will be held in April, with time and place to be announced, according to Richard Nichol of the Lisbon club, secretary.

Salem Man Involved In Pittsburgh Theft

PITTSBURGH — Three Ohio men, including one from Salem, and a Pittsburgh resident have been jailed here to await hearing on charges of attempting to steal $2,500 worth of tools from the Power Tool & Supply Co. in the Oakland section.

Charged with burglary were Daniel Boscia, 49, of Pittsburgh; James Mallory, 37, of Youngstown, Emil Dinsio, 26, of Polland, and his brother, James, 33, of Salem.

Police said the men piled the tools on the sidewalk Wednesday but grew suspicious and fled in a station wagon, leaving the tools behind. They were captured about a block away.

Potters, Big Red Renew Cage Series Here Friday Night

The Big 8 Conference brings East Liverpool and Steubenville Big Red together for a regular season contest, the first beween the two schools since the 1953-54 campaign.

Big Red, always known for its strong basketball teams, hasn't changed. Coach Walt Owens will bring another powerful outfit to Memorial Auditorium Friday night.

Steubenville has rolled to a 7-1 record, the only defeat coming last Friday night at Weirton, 62-57. Big Red and Warren are the only undefeated teams in the Big 8 conference, with Steubenville seeking its second straight league win Friday.

Harris was satisfied with the starting five which went all out before bowing to Youngstown South last Saturday night and will stick with the same unit for the Big Red game.

Stubbers Are 7-1; EL Lineup Same

Dean Cline is in better shape this week, with his bruised knee nearly healed. Cline will go into Friday's game carrying a 22.5 average, after dropping off to 13 points against South last week.

Rounding out the starting lineup will be Roger Linville and juniors Frank McComas, Dave Oliver and Bob Foranzo. Harris was pleased with this group, which got off to a fast start against Youngstown but lost the lead in the fourth quarter.

Coach Merle Roselle of Youngstown South called Foranzo one of the better defensive players he has watched this season.

All five starters for Big Red hit 6 feet or better. This starting unit has teamed up to defeat Pittsburgh Schenley, Canton Central, Dover, Alliance, Follansbee Akron East and city rival Steubenville Central.

Alliance is the only mutual opponent that East Liverpool and Big Red have played. While the Potters lost a tough 40-39 contest to the Aviators, Big Red posted a 61-55 margin in a game played at Steubenville.

Steubenville shows a well-balanced attack, with all five starters sharing the scoring chores. The biggest surprise of the season has been the performance of Stan Brown, a 6-foot-5 junior, who has been the most improved player on the squad.

He is one of the team's leading scorers and is rated an outstanding rebounder. East Liverpool has no height to match the 6-foot-5 Brown and it may turn into a long night on the backboards.

Bob McCosky, the quarterback in football, also proved to be a surprise to Owens. He moved co-captain Jim Moyer out of a starting position and in the Akron East game dropped in 25 points for the best single game effort by any Big Red starter. McCosky, a junior, stands 6-foot-2.

Bob Baker, another 6-foot-2 junior, will be used inside at a forward spot.

The guards are a couple of six-footers, Harry Wilson and co-captain Dave Brown. Wilson was an All-Ohio football palyer and back of the year in the state during the 1962 season. He drives well and in the Central game collected 17 points.

The team is rated a good jumping outfit and with all six-footers Big Red has its way on the backboards.

Will Keep Fighting AAU

Top Indoor Track Meets Are First To Suffer From Latest NCAA Stand

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Delegates to the National Collegiate Athletic Association convention headed home today after adopting an unexpectedly tough four-point policy that shows they intend to keep fighting the Amateur Athletic Union.

The delegates also reaffirmed their support of three new sports federations which have invaded fields governed by the AAU. The immediate affect of the strong stand—which was particularly unexpected in the wake of apparent progress toward arbitration of the dispute under Gen. Douglas MacArthur—will be on the AAU sanctioned major indoor track and field meets in the East which begin at Boston Saturday night.

It was learned that none of the NCAA Eastern colleges entered in the Boston meet would compete.

After Wednesday's action, the 600 NCAA member schools are pledged to a policy that calls for withdrawal from membership in the AAU until the situation improves, a boycott of AAU events not sanctioned by the federations, withdrawal of all personnel from AAU committees in basketball, gymnastics and track and field, and a limitation which restricts use of institutional facilities and equipment to collegiate and federation activities.

The policy on facilities and equipment carries the proviso that the AAU may "enjoy these same privileges" if it either accepts membership in the federations or agrees to a form of dual sanctions.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, doubted any defiance of the policy, which came in the form of a resolution.

While the AAU indoor meets are the immediate losers, the cut-and-dried over-all meaning of the NCAA policy is that the colleges and universities are out of events not sanctioned by the federations until some sort of a settlement is reached in the 2½-year dispute that has raged over administration of amateur athletics.

The AAU holds international recognition as the U.S. governing body in three sports in which federations have been created—track and field, basketball and gymnastics.

President Kennedy's entrance into the matter followed collapse of a coalition plan for track and field worked out in New York two months ago and was directed at saving the makeup of U.S. squads for the Olympics in Tokyo next year.

Arbitration is limited to track and field because it is the No. 1 Olympic sport by tradition and because it is felt that if agreement can be reached in the track squabble the other groups can draw on the settlement as a guide.

Unanimous adoption of the resolution followed withdrawal of an amendment that would have cost collegians a year's eligibility for NCAA championship events for competing in open events not sanctioned by the federation.

Woody Hayes Is Mentioned With Possible Successors

By LARRY FRIEDMAN

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Paul Brown, the football master who led the professional Cleveland Browns for 17 years after gaining coaching glory at the high school and college level of the game, has been fired.

The end of a gridiron era in Cleveland came late Wednesday with an announcement from Arthur B. Modell, club president.

"Paul E. Brown, head coach and general manager of the Cleveland Browns, will no longer serve the team in those capacities. Brown will remain as a vice president. He will finish out the balance of his six-year contract at the same compensation and will continue to be a stockholder."

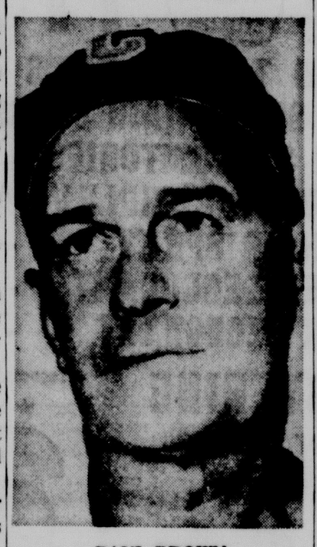

Brown, 54, signed an eight-year contract two years ago. He was unavailable to callers Wednesday. And there was some doubt he would remain with the National Football League club he founded in 1946.

But Modell, who hopes to name a successor within 10 days, said: "I fervently hope Paul Brown will continue his association with the Browns for a long time to come. I have every indication he will stay with us."

Modell indicated Brown's shoes would be filled by two men—one a coach and the other a general manager.

"As for a coach I have four men in mind now," Modell said.

Some names that drew speculation were Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys; Bill Austin, an assistant with Green Bay; Ohio State's Woody Hayes and the Browns' backfield coach, Blanton Collier.

PAUL BROWN
Fired As Head Coach.

Modell said he had been thinking about removing Brown for the past three weeks. He told Brown Monday.

"It was not a pleasant thing to do," said the 39-year-old former New York advertising executive who bought the club for $4 million in March 1961.

"The only reason I will give for the change, is that I believe it will serve the best interests of the Cleveland Browns."

Brown is believed to be drawing in excess of $50,000 a year from the Browns. But it was no secret that friction was building up between him and Modell, both of whom are strong personalities.

Until Modell came on the scene, Brown was the boss of everything to do with the Browns. He had a free hand. He was the only man in the NFL with a team named after him.

The name was given to the team when it first started in 1946 in the All-America Conference. The Browns won every championship in the four years that league lasted, piling up a record of 52 victories, four defeats and three ties.

In 13 NFL seasons the Browns have won seven Eastern Conference titles and three league championships.

Brown's 33-year coaching record is probably unmatched. It spans two seasons at Severn Prep, nine at Massillon, Ohio, High School, three at Ohio State University, two at the Great Lakes Naval Station in Chicago and the last 17 with the Browns. He won 296 games, lost 75 and had 15 ties.

Wittenberg Coach Gains Top Honors

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bill Edwards, coach of Wittenberg University's champion Tigers, has been named the small college football coach of the year for 1962 by the American Football Coaches Association.

The runaway winner in the major school catagory was John McKay of Southern California, who led his Trojans to a 10-0 season record and a 42-37 Rose Bowl victory over Wisconsin.

The Tigers of Wittenberg, with a 9-0 record, won their second straight Ohio Conference championship this past season.

Although a recipient of many other honors, Edwards said that in his 32 years of coaching "this is the highest honor I feel I have ever achieved."

Philley To Manage

HOUSTON (AP)—Dave Philley, major league baseball veteran of 18 years, will manage the National League Houston Colt's Modesto farm team in the California League, Colt General Manager Paul Richards announced today.

3 District Teams Boast Solid Defensive Marks

Defense is an important asset of any winning basketball team and three squads in the district have used it to compile some of the top records.

New Cumberland, Midland and Wellsville High's tall Tigers — each beaten only once this year—can lay claim to the best defensive performances thus far. Salem is way out in front in point production although having lost two games.

New Cumberland (7-2) has limited opponents to an average of only 41.6 points per game, their record aided considerably by two smashing victories over West Liberty, 72-17 and 99-12. The Blue Raiders are averaging 68 points a game on offense.

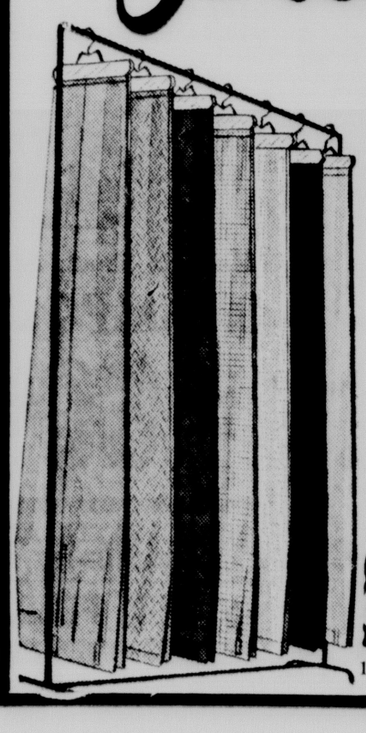

Midland, a leader in Section 8 play, has yielded only 41.9 points to all opponents and the Leopards have averaged 55.3 points themselves. They sport a 9-1 record under clever Coach Henry (Hank) Kuzma.

Third best defensive record is owned by Wellsville's Tigers. Opponents have averaged only 45.1 points an outing against Wellsville. The Tigers list an offensive average of 56.6 points.

Salem (5-2) has piled up 521 points for a 74.4 average per game. But the opponents have scored 454 points, a 64.8 average.

East Liverpool, a loser of several close ones early in the season, has an offensive average of 55.8 points, compared to 58.8 of the opponents.

Potters, Big Red Renew Cage Series Here Friday Night

The Big 8 Conference brings East Liverpool and Steubenville Big Red together for a regular season contest, the first beween the two schools since the 1953-54 campaign.

Big Red, always known for its strong basketball teams, hasn't changed. Coach Walt Owens will bring another powerful outfit to Memorial Auditorium Friday night.

Steubenville has rolled to a 7-1 record, the only defeat coming last Friday night at Weirton, 62-57. Big Red and Warren are the only undefeated teams in the Big 8 conference, with Steubenville seeking its second straight league win Friday.

Harris was satisfied with the starting five which went all out before bowing to Youngstown South last Saturday night and will stick with the same unit for the Big Red game.

Stubbers Are 7-1; EL Lineup Same

Dean Cline is in better shape this week, with his bruised knee nearly healed. Cline will go into Friday's game carrying a 22.5 average, after dropping off to 13 points against South last week.

Rounding out the starting lineup will be Roger Linville and juniors Frank McComas, Dave Oliver and Bob Foranzo. Harris was pleased with this group, which got off to a fast start against Youngstown but lost the lead in the fourth quarter.

Coach Merle Roselle of Youngstown South called Foranzo one of the better defensive players he has watched this season.

All five starters for Big Red hit 6 feet or better. This starting unit has teamed up to defeat Pittsburgh Schenley, Canton Central, Dover, Alliance, Follansbee Akron East and city rival Steubenville Central.

Title Fight Set In April, That Is If Liston Agrees

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson has finally called the shot on a return bout for the heavyweight championship, but Sonny Liston may fire another knockout punch.

That was the situation today in That was the situation today in the off-again, on-again return battle which seemed settled Wednesday when Patterson's attorney, Julius November, announced the fight would be held in Miami Beach, Fla., April 4, under the auspices of Championship Sports Inc.

From his corner in Chicago, Liston said he knew nothing about the date and site for the return with- Patterson and emphasized "they better start talking to me about this thing."

Liston's Chicago publicity chief, Ben Bentley, said the champion had not talked recently with Championship Sports, or his own adviser, Jack Nilon, about the details of a rematch.

In New York, November said the details had not all been worked out for the bout at Miami Beach's Convention Hall, but indicated the fight would be telecast to theaters around the country.

That was the setup for the first fight in which Liston hardly gave the paying customers enough time to settle back in their seats before dispatching Patterson in 2 minutes, 6 seconds of the first round at Chicago's Comiskey Park last Sept. 25.

Patterson had the contractual right to name the date, site and promoter for the rematch and did so despite the opposition of Jack Nilon, Liston's adviser, who feels April 4 is too late in the tourist season for Miami Beach.

"But," said Nilon, "if Patterson demands Miami Beach there is not much we can do about it."

Potter Wrestlers Gain 1st Win Over Big Red

East Liverpool's wrestling team, winless in two previous matches, swept to its first victory by routing Steubenville Big Red, 36-9, on the Memorial Auditorium mats.

Coach Rey Peduzzi's Potters only lost one match while coming out with draws in two others. ELHS won eight of the 11 bouts including three by pins.

The Potters won the first seven matches before running into a draw. Ed House (105) opened the victory recording a quick fall in 1:14; Jerry Triner (114) followed with a 6-0 decision over Aldo Isodore; Bill Smith picked up a 7-2 decision in the 122 pound class over Bill Watson; Bob Francis (127) followed with a pin in 2:36 over Greg Davis; Terry Nusser blanked his 135-pound opponent 6-0; Bob Gilmore pinned Dick Coyne in 5:58 then Ron Kennedy (147) decisioned his foe 6-2.

The only loss dealt the Potters was when Ron Mazzaferro pinned Ron Echols in 2:40 of the heavyweight match.

105 — House (EL) pinned Lavender (S) 1:14.
114 — Triner (EL) decisioned Isodore (S) 6-0.
127 — Francis (EL) pinned Davis (S) 2:36.
135 — Nusser (EL) decisioned Marinella (S) 6-0.
140 — Gilmore (EL) pinned Coyne (S) 5:58.
147 — Kennedy (EL) decisioned Jackson (S) 6-2.
156 — Bowyer (EL) and Mahfood (S) 7-7 draw.
167 — Parsons (EL) pinned Jones (S) 1:34.
Heavyweight — Mazzaferro (S) pinned Echols (EL) 2:40.

West Scores 40 In Lakers 7th Straight

This was proved again Wednesday night when Russell was sidelined with a sore back and the Chicago Zephyrs won 131-123. It was Chicago's first National Basketball Association victory over Boston this season.

In other games, Jerry West's 40 points sparked the Los Angeles Lakers to their seventh straight victory, 123-115 over Detroit; Cinnati swept from behind a 14-point deficit on the shooting of Jack Twyman and Oscar Robertson to defeat Syracuse 116-112 and St. Louis turned back the New York Knicks 110-95.

While Boston didn't have Russell, the Zephyrs had Charley Hardnett and the latter turned in his finest NBA performance with a 35-point effort. Hardnett clinched the game with five straight points after the Celts pulled to within 119-117. Rookie John Havlicek paced the losers with 20 points.

Return Bout Contract Seen Evil Of Boxing

By MURRAY ROSEX

NEW YORK (AP)—There's an old axiom of boxing that says "as the heavyweights go, so goes boxing."

If that's the case, boxing isn't going too well these days. The heavyweight division is in trouble.

Outside of champion Sonny Liston, a good all-around fighter, and Casius Clay, an exciting prospect, the bellcow division of boxing hasn't much to offer.

Why the depression in a cruel, demanding sport that pays tremendous purses to one or two men at the top and peanuts to the others?

"The return bout involving championship fights must be eliminated to restore competition and interest in boxing, especially in the heavyweight division.

"The champion in every division should be forced to fight the No. 1 contender every six months. The title does not belong to any individual. He must be made to fight to retain it. How long should the others be forced to wait until they get their chance? Poor Eddie Machen probably suffered that mental depression just waiting around and wondering what he could do with his No. 1 rating.

"While the champion was fighting for tremendous sums, Machen was fighting for peanuts when he could get fights."

How about the tax problem involving big money- making champions?

"The government must give boxers and other athletes tax relief," said Fleisher. "I have suggested to the Congress in the past that athletes be permitted to spread their income over a period of years because of the short major earning period for most of them.

"This would also stimulate boxing interest. There are many fighters who quit the ring early because they realized that their chances of getting a title shot was slim. If a fighter knows that there will be more action at the top this would bring on more interest below as fighters try to work their way up the ladder. There must be a realizable goal at the top of that ladder."

Last Respects Will Be Paid To Hornsby

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas' baseball figures, players and writers, pay their last respects today to Rogers Hornsby, who began his career in Texas and went on to the major leagues as baseball's greatest right-handed hitter.

Funeral services for the 66-year-old Hornsby were to be held at 3 p.m. (CST) in an Austin mortuary. Burial was to follow at Hornsby's Bend, a small central Texas community nine miles east of here on the Colorado River.

The Rjah, a member of baseball's Hall Of Fame for 20 years, died in a Chicago hospital Saturday from a heart condition. He had entered the hospital Dec. 9 for eye surgery and suffered a stroke a few days later.

The services here will be the second within a week for Hornsby. Rites were held Tuesday in a Chicago chapel and about 250 persons, many of them National and American League players and officials, attended.

There are 105 honorary pallbearers for Hornsby's funeral today, including ex-major league pitcher Monty Statton; umpires Lee Ballanfant and Dusty Boggess; ex-St. Louis Cardinal great, John "Pepper" Martin; Paul Richards of the Houston Colts and Dick Butler of the Texas League.

Notre Dame's 'Sophs' Remain As Giant Killers

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Notre Dame's tender sophomores may not set the basketball world on fire but they're turning into a bunch of old spoil-sports.

New Year's Eve, they knocked Illinois from the unbeaten ranks, the only blotch on the record of the 5th-ranked Illini.

Wednesday night, proud DePaul, boasting a spotless 8-0 record came into the South Bend lair of the Irish. With three sophs leading the way, the Irish pushed to a five-point half-time lead, then raced away for an 82-62 decision.

The sophs who did most of the damage were Larry Sheffied, who scored 21 points; Don Reed 17, a Walt Sahm 16.

Notre Dame now has a 9-3 record. DePaul will have an opportunity to get even on its home court next Wednesday.

Sophomores have been standouts all over the country this season. In another game Wednesday night, soph Billy Rado of Georgia dunked in 23 points in a losing cause. Georgia Tech, 7th-ranked nationally, barely eked out a 72-70 decision over the Bulldogs to keep its record a perfect 10-0.

Billy Cunningham, another super-soph, also did Herculean work for a losing cause. His North Carolina club, No. 10 in the current Associated Press poll, lost a 78-70 Atlantic Coast Conference decision to Wake Forest. Cunningham led all scorers with 25 points.

Virginia turned back North Carolina State 78-69 in another AAC game. The results left Wake Forest and Duke, which coasted past Navy 85-70 in a non-league game, tied for the loop lead.

Nick Werkman of Seton Hall, the nation's top scorer among the major collegians, registered 21 points in the Pirates' 79-47 victory over Rider, a New Jersey rival.

Plans Are Aired For Wellsville All-Sports Fete

Plans for an all-sports banquet were outlined when the Wellsville Omni Boosters Club met Wednesday night in the high school cafeteria.

It's slated for early April and plans call for a speaker to feature the program. Plans were discussed at length to purchase trophies for outstanding Tiger athletes.

Mrs. Frank Leyda was elected secretary to serve the unexpired term of Mrs. James Stevens, who resigned.

Top Golfers Are Honored

NEW YORK (AP)—A long list of veterans and relative newcomers, representing the top names in golf, were honored at the National Golf Awards dinner Wednesday night, but perhaps nine were more pleased then Bob Nichols.

Nichols, a young member of the touring pros, received the Ben Hogan trophy, given annually to a player who has overcome physical handicap or severe illness to continue playing golf. At 16, Nichols was unconcious for 17 days and paralyzed for three months following an auto accident.

The Metropolitan Golf Writers' top award, a gold tee, went to Gene Sarazen, winner of the U.S. Open in 1922 and 1932. It is given annually to the person deemed to have done the most for the sport over a period of years.

NBA All-Star Game Due On Television

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Basketball Association's All-Star game in Los Angeles next week will be carried by television stations in at least 17 cities.

The East-West contest will be played Wednesday night, Jan. 16. The special network telecast will start at 8:15 p.m. PST (11:15 p.m., EST).

Albany, N.Y., Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, Columbus and Dayton, Ohio; Charleston, W.Va.; Evansville and Indianapolis, Ind.; Hartford, Conn.; Lexington, Ky.; Minneapolis, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, R.I., St. Louis and Topeka, Kan.

Oilers Sign Hopkins

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Oilers of the American Football League announced Wednesday the signing of linebacker Jerry Hopkins of Texas A&M.

Woodling Denies He's Signed As Yank Bat Coach

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—Outfielder Gene Woodling, whose only interest at the moment is corrugated boxes and Appaloosa horses, denied today published reports that he has signed with the world champion New York Yankees as a batting coach.

The Long Island, N.Y., Press reported Wednesday that Woodling had obtained his unconditional release from the New York Mets and signed with the Yankees as a coach.

The 40-year-old Woodling said, "I do not have a contract with the Yankees. The only contract I have is from the Mets for 1963, which they just sent me."

Woodling said the only thing on his mind at the moment was the corrugated boxes he's selling and the Appaloose horses he and his wife are raising and marketing in the Ohio farm country.

Westgate 8th Grade Tops Beaver Local

Westgate's eighth grade five topped Beaver Local, 42-33 Wednesday afternoon.

Mike McVay with 13 points and Earl Diddle's 12 markers paced the Wildcats. Jeff Hall and Harry Matheny shared honors for Beaver Local with 10 each.

Title Fight Set In April, That Is If Liston Agrees

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson has finally called the shot on a return bout for the heavyweight championship, but Sonny Liston may fire another knockout punch.

That was the situation today in

That was the situation today in the off-again, on-again return battle which seemed settled Wednesday when Patterson's attorney, Julius November, announced the fight would be held in Miami Beach, Fla., April 4, under the auspices of Championship Sports Inc.

From his corner in Chicago, Liston said he knew nothing about the date and site for the return with Patterson and emphasized "they better start talking to me about this thing."

Liston's Chicago publicity chief, Ben Bentley, said the champion had not talked recently with Championship Sports, or his own adviser, Jack Nilon, about the details of a rematch.

In New York, November said the details had not all been worked out for the bout at Miami Beach's Convention Hall, but indicated the fight would be telecast to theaters around the country.

That was the setup for the first fight in which Liston hardly gave the paying customers enough time to settle back in their seats before dispatching Patterson in 2 minutes, 6 seconds of the first round at Chicago's Comiskey Park last Sept. 25.

Patterson had the contractual right to name the date, site and promoter for the rematch and did so despite the opposition of Jack Nilon, Liston's adviser, who feels April 4 is too late in the tourist season for Miami Beach.

"But," said Nilon, "if Patterson demands Miami Beach there is not much we can do about it."

Potter Wrestlers Gain 1st Win Over Big Red

East Liverpool's wrestling team, winless in two previous matches, swept to its first victory by routing Steubenville Big Red, 36-9, on the Memorial Auditorium mats.

Coach Rey Peduzzi's Potters only lost one match while coming out with draws in two others. ELHS won eight of the 11 bouts including three by pins.

The Potters won the first seven matches before running into a draw. Ed House (105) opened the victory recording a quick fall in 1:14; Jerry Triner (114) followed with a 6-0 decision over Aldo Isodore; Bill Smith picked up a 7-2 decision in the 122 pound class over Bill Watson; Bob Francis (127) followed with a pin in 2:36 over Greg Davis; Terry Nusser blanked his 135-pound opponent 6-0; Bob Gilmore pinned Dick Coyne in 5:58 then Ron Kennedy (147) decisioned his foe 6-2.

The only loss dealt the Potters was when Ron Mazzaferro pinned Ron Echols in 2:40 of the heavyweight match.

105 — House (EL) pinned Lavender (S) 1:14.
114 — Triner (EL) decisioned Isodore (S) 6-0.
156 — Bowyer (EL) and Mahfood (S) 7-7 draw.
Heavyweight — Mazzaferro (S) pinned Echols (EL) 2:40.

West Scores 40 In Lakers 7th Straight

This was proved again Wednesday night when Russell was sidelined with a sore back and the Chicago Zephyrs won 131-123. It was Chicago's first National Basketball Association victory over Boston this season.

In other games, Jerry West's 40 points sparked the Los Angeles Lakers to their seventh straight victory, 123-115 over Detroit; Cinnati swept from behind a 14-point deficit on the shooting of Jack Twyman and Oscar Robertson to defeat Syracuse 116-112 and St. Louis turned back the New York Knicks 110-95.

While Boston didn't have Russell, the Zephyrs had Charley Hardnett and the latter turned in his finest NBA performance with a 35-point effort. Hardnett clinched the game with five straight points after the Celts pulled to within 119-117. Rookie John Havlicek paced the losers with 20 points.

Return Bout Contract Seen Evil Of Boxing

By MURRAY ROSEX

NEW YORK (AP)—There's an old axiom of boxing that says "as the heavyweights go, so goes boxing."

If that's the case, boxing isn't going too well these days. The heavyweight division is in trouble.

Why the depression in a cruel, demanding sport that pays tremendous purses to one or two men at the top and peanuts to the others?

"The return bout involving championship fights must be eliminated to restore competition and interest in boxing, especially in the heavyweight division.

"The champion in every division should be forced to fight the No. 1 contender every six months. The title does not belong to any individual. He must be made to fight to retain it. How long should the others be forced to wait until they get their chance? Poor Eddie Machen probably suffered that mental depression just waiting around and wondering what he could do with his No. 1 rating.

"While the champion was fighting for tremendous sums, Machen was fighting for peanuts when he could get fights."

How about the tax problem involving big money- making champions?

"The government must give boxers and other athletes tax relief," said Fleisher. "I have suggested to the Congress in the past that athletes be permitted to spread their income over a period of years because of the short major earning period for most of them.

"This would also stimulate boxing interest. There are many fighters who quit the ring early because they realized that their chances of getting a title shot was slim. If a fighter knows that there will be more action at the top this would bring on more interest below as fighters try to work their way up the ladder. There must be a realizable goal at the top of that ladder."

Last Respects Will Be Paid To Hornsby

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas' baseball figures, players and writers, pay their last respects today to Rogers Hornsby, who began his career in Texas and went on to the major leagues as baseball's greatest right-handed hitter.

Funeral services for the 66-year-old Hornsby were to be held at 3 p.m. (CST) in an Austin mortuary. Burial was to follow at Hornsby's Bend, a small central Texas community nine miles east of here on the Colorado River.

The Rjah, a member of baseball's Hall Of Fame for 20 years, died in a Chicago hospital Saturday from a heart condition. He had entered the hospital Dec. 9 for eye surgery and suffered a stroke a few days later.

The services here will be the second within a week for Hornsby. Rites were held Tuesday in a Chicago chapel and about 250 persons, many of them National and American League players and officials, attended.

There are 105 honorary pallbearers for Hornsby's funeral today, including ex-major league pitcher Monty Statton; umpires Lee Ballanfant and Dusty Boggess; ex-St. Louis Cardinal great, John "Pepper" Martin; Paul Richards of the Houston Colts and Dick Butler of the Texas League.

Notre Dame's 'Sophs' Remain As Giant Killers

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Notre Dame's tender sophomores may not set the basketball world on fire but they're turning into a bunch of old spoil-sports.

Wednesday night, proud DePaul, boasting a spotless 8-0 record came into the South Bend lair of the Irish. With three sophs leading the way, the Irish pushed to a five-point half-time lead, then raced away for an 82-62 decision.

The sophs who did most of the damage were Larry Sheffied, who scored 21 points; Don Reed 17, a Walt Sahm 16.

Notre Dame now has a 9-3 record. DePaul will have an opportunity to get even on its home court next Wednesday.

Sophomores have been standouts all over the country this season. In another game Wednesday night, soph Billy Rado of Georgia dunked in 23 points in a losing cause. Georgia Tech, 7th-ranked nationally, barely eked out a 72-70 decision over the Bulldogs to keep its record a perfect 10-0.

Billy Cunningham, another super-soph, also did Herculean work for a losing cause. His North Carolina club, No. 10 in the current Associated Press poll, lost a 78-70 Atlantic Coast Conference decision to Wake Forest. Cunningham led all scorers with 25 points.

Virginia turned back North Carolina State 78-69 in another AAC game. The results left Wake Forest and Duke, which coasted past Navy 85-70 in a non-league game, tied for the loop lead.

Plans Are Aired For Wellsville All-Sports Fete

Plans for an all-sports banquet were outlined when the Wellsville Omni Boosters Club met Wednesday night in the high school cafeteria.

It's slated for early April and plans call for a speaker to feature the program. Plans were discussed at length to purchase trophies for outstanding Tiger athletes.

Mrs. Frank Leyda was elected secretary to serve the unexpired term of Mrs. James Stevens, who resigned.

Top Golfers Are Honored

NEW YORK (AP)—A long list of veterans and relative newcomers, representing the top names in golf, were honored at the National Golf Awards dinner Wednesday night, but perhaps nine were more pleased then Bob Nichols.

Nichols, a young member of the touring pros, received the Ben Hogan trophy, given annually to a player who has overcome physical handicap or severe illness to continue playing golf. At 16, Nichols was unconcious for 17 days and paralyzed for three months following an auto accident.

The Metropolitan Golf Writers' top award, a gold tee, went to Gene Sarazen, winner of the U.S. Open in 1922 and 1932. It is given annually to the person deemed to have done the most for the sport over a period of years.

NBA All-Star Game Due On Television

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Basketball Association's All-Star game in Los Angeles next week will be carried by television stations in at least 17 cities.

The East-West contest will be played Wednesday night, Jan. 16. The special network telecast will start at 8:15 p.m. PST (11:15 p.m., EST).

Oilers Sign Hopkins

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Oilers of the American Football League announced Wednesday the signing of linebacker Jerry Hopkins of Texas A&M.

Woodling Denies He's Signed As Yank Bat Coach

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—Outfielder Gene Woodling, whose only interest at the moment is corrugated boxes and Appaloosa horses, denied today published reports that he has signed with the world champion New York Yankees as a batting coach.

The Long Island, N.Y., Press reported Wednesday that Woodling had obtained his unconditional release from the New York Mets and signed with the Yankees as a coach.

The 40-year-old Woodling said, "I do not have a contract with the Yankees. The only contract I have is from the Mets for 1963, which they just sent me."

Woodling said the only thing on his mind at the moment was the corrugated boxes he's selling and the Appaloose horses he and his wife are raising and marketing in the Ohio farm country.

Westgate 8th Grade Tops Beaver Local

Westgate's eighth grade five topped Beaver Local, 42-33 Wednesday afternoon.

Mike McVay with 13 points and Earl Diddle's 12 markers paced the Wildcats. Jeff Hall and Harry Matheny shared honors for Beaver Local with 10 each.

DEAR HELOISE: Fabric softeners are recommended for preventing static electricity in synthetic fabrics! Also, do people know that the lack of humidity in the air is the chief cause of static? It is more noticeable in dry, overheated homes in the winter . . . but is practically unheard of in the summertime.

If a washcloth just won't come clean after Junior wipes his face with it (without using soap!), scour the bathtub and basin with the washcloth using a good bleach-containing cleanser. It will also clean the cloth junior used.

When I removed the wallpaper from my bedroom, I discovered very uneven "rough" plaster. No finish coat . . . the walls looked so bad they reminded me of road maps. I asked my hardware dealer what I could do at minimum cost.

He recommended using texture paint to fill in the uneven places. There are inexpensive brands of texture paint and these can be tinted any shade you like. I used a dark shade to further hide the unevenness, and in some places applied it by rubbing it on with a rag instead of using a brush.

MRS. J.P.B.

DEAR HELOISE: When I throw out last week's newspapers, I roll them up and tie them with my old nylon stockings. Perfect! They sit behind the garbage can and the wind never blows them away.

CONSTANT READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Are you an only child?

AN ONLY CHILD.

ONE OF THREE CHILDREN.

DEAR HELOISE: Never throw away that old dish dryer rack.

It's the handiest thing in the world to take in the garden when gathering your beets, potatoes, and so forth. Then, just place your rack under the water faucet or garden hose and let the water spray on the vegetables. One does not need to handle the vegetables when washing them this way and the water will drain off.

STEADY READER.

DEAR HELOISE: One good way to launder a crinoline petticoat is to dip it up and down in warm soap or detergent suds in the bathtub and then rinse it under the shower, without wringing it.

Hang it by the waist band to dry, using a skirt hanger with clothespins. If you like a stiff, bouffant effect, apply full strength plastic starch to the petticoat after it is dry.

I removed the musty odor from my closets by placing a pan of water containing household ammonia on a high shelf at the back of the closet and leaving it overnight.

Car Washing Ruled No Sunday Violation

CINCINNATI (AP)—Car washing is incidental to traveling and thus does not constitute a violation of Ohio's Sunday closing law, according to a ruling of Municipal Court Judge Clarence Denning.

Police Hunt Gunman

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Police are looking for a gunman, described as tall, thin and neatly dressed, who robbed the Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Association branch in Northwood Shopping Center Wednesday. Some $15,000-$20,000 was reported stolen.

Band Boosters Set Card Party

The Board of Directors of the Midland Band Boosters Club Tuesday night set a public card party for Jan. 23. The group met at Midland High School.

The party will be held at the St. Anthony Club beginning at 8 p. m. Mrs. Frank Lavrusky will be in charge of prizes; Mrs. Frank Sepos, lunch, and Mrs. Nick Vranes, publicity.

A special meeting to outline final plans for the party will be held Wednesday at 7 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Petrosky of Beaver Ave.

Mrs. Charles Castelli, secretary-treasurer, gave a report.

Next meeting is Feb. 12.

Valley Sanitation Group Opens Meeting

CINCINNATI (AP) — An eight-state agency for cleaning up the Ohio River, the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission, begins its 15th annual meeting today.

ORSANCO officials said their crusade to clean up the Ohio is nearing completion with the building of a $10.5 million purification plant for sewage treatment at Huntington, W.Va.

The plant is the last major unit of the campaign which is now reported 90 per cent finished by municipalities and 85 per cent completed by the valley's industries.

ORSANCO was founded in 1948 by Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.

Law Asked On Checks Stolen From Mails

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police Chief Stanley Schrotel would like the state legislature to pass a law modeled on a federal law which provides penalties up to five years in prison and a $2,000 fine for possessing a check stolen from the mails.

PTA Dancing Classes Set

Mrs. George Bright, ways and means chairman, reported at the meeting of the Lincoln Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday night that ballroom dancing lessons for students from the 4th to 10th grades will begin Jan. 23. The PTA is sponsoring the classes as a fund - raising project.

There will be five two-hour classes, concluding with a three-hour party for the students. Larry Myers will be instructor.

Interested students are to contact Mrs. Bright or Mrs. Cecil Stoddard for registration. Mrs. Bright also reported on the candy project.

Discussion on "What Teachers Should Expect from Parents" was led by Miss Mildred McGregor, assistant principal at the Westgate Elementary School, and Carl Pelini, assistant junior high school principal at Westgate.

The attendance banners went to Miss Eleanor Dudley's 1-A, and Mrs. Mary Alice Slaven's 4-A rooms.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Thomas Doland. Business was conducted by Richard Bateman, president.

Officers Elected For '63 By Civil War Roundtable

Joseph Robbins of Globe St., employe of the Crucible Steel Co., was elected president of the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable at a meeting Wednesday night at the Carnegie Library.

Miss Elizabeth Creese of Wellsville, secretary, and Charles Tittle of East Liverpool, treasurer, were returned.

Discussion was held on a planned re-enactment of Gen. John Morgan's 1863 raid into Ohio to be staged by county groups in July.

'Red Card' Ordinance Gets First Reading

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—An ordinance to prohibit distribution of so-called "Red cards" has received its first reading from the Dayton City Commission. Two more readings in successive week are required before the ordinance becomes effective.

Ralph Roberts, head of a committee which has distributed the cards calling attention to goods from Communist bloc counties, said his group is working on a new campaign, which he called "a thousand times more effective."

Sen. Kefauver May Step Into Amateur Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., disclosed today his Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee has been looking into the fight for control of U.S. amateur sports.

The subcommittee, which usually explores matters in the fields of business and industry, at times has investigated alleged monopoly practices in professional sports.

Kefauver told a reporter it was still too early to say whether the preliminary staff inquiry would result in hearings on the bitter fight for power between the National Collegiate Athletic Association, and the Amateur Athletic Union.

Kefauver said staff aides started the preliminary inquiry on his instructions after he had received expressions of concern from athletes and coaches who feared they might be caught in the middle of the power fight.

Both the AAU and NCAA have been suspending member athletes for competing in meets sponsored by the rival group.

Woman Satisfactory

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Mary Coe, 32, of Dayton was listed in satisfactory condition in Miami Valley Hospital after a condemned building collapsed on the adjoining tavern where she was working.

McElroy Drops Suit On Sunday Closing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A deposition from Arlan's Department Store, Columbus, that it doesn't plan to be open Sundays "for the indefinite future" has prompted Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy to ask Ohio Supreme Court dismissal of his suit against the company.

The suit was among a dozen he brought recently in a campaign for enforcement of the so-called blue laws.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

What They Don't Know

New Yorkers know him mainly as a TV news reporter who opens each 11 p.m. newscast with the words, "Well, what kind of a day has it been?" Everybody else in the country knows him as the fellow who used to preside over "Author Meets Critics" and other round tables of the air ("What Makes You Tick," "We Take Your Word," "Take a Guess," "What's the Story?"). The name is John K. M. McCaffery, and the K. M. stands for Kirwin Michael.

Alan Gill

The strain, you see, is Irish. And the freckles are real.

ON JAN. 20 — and rather late-ish each Sunday afternoon thereafter — J. K. M. McC. will serve as interlocutor on an exercise in eggheadedness called "Alumni Fun."

Patterned upon the success of "College Bowl," ABC-TV's new show will draw upon captains of industry and the arts — rather than undergraduates — to compete for the honors and cash awards, with the dough going to the alumni fund of the winning team's alma mater.

"We found out a good deal about what kind of question a middle-aged alumnus can and cannot answer.

"AT FIRST, I was surprised at how little these men remember about literature or history. They're good at economics and current events, which isn't surprising, but just ask them which came first, the battles of Hastings, Tours or Agincourt, and they're sure to lose out."

"It's hard to choose the right people for something like 'Alumni Fun.' A normally outgoing person can freeze, a dour person opens up. But it's surprising how many are willing.

"We asked George Romney months ago and he said, 'Fine.' I don't know if he still feels that way."

JOHN K. M. McCAFFERY is an alumnus of the University of Wisconsin (B.A.) and Columbia (M.A.) and for a few years was an English teacher in New York.

"I'd still like to be one if it weren't for the pay. I started off teaching at $2,500 a year, and that was the highest salary anybody had in my graduating class."

"I know I talk fast — almost as fast as I read. I do three or four words a second.

"But no, I don't collect my fluggs and spoonerisms. There are too many to collect. I'm always falling over the next work. I'm nervous on camera and before the the show — even before the news shows.

"I'M A COMPULSIVE reader, go through about 10 books a week, five of which are trash.

"I find myself reading everything. If I'm sitting at someone else's desk, I suddenly find I'm half way through the piece of correspondence that's sitting on the blotter. It's terrible.

"I've just edited a mystery anthology. In a disordered and chaotic world, a mystery story brings order, I think. The good guy wins, the bad guy loses, all the pieces fall into place.

"Mysteries are healthier than the news. Every night on the air I say, 'What kind of day has it been?' Well, your wife has put too much vermouth in your martini, that's what, and the office is in a mess, and — well, we try to make some sense and order out of the news for the beleaguered fellow watching. It's not much use.

"THERE'S an awful lot of crime that is so careless of value, so terribly purposeless.

"I don't use stories like that in my newscast. They have no meaning. People ask me, 'Why don't you smile?' How can you smile when you deliver the news?

5 Tie, Gag Widow, Rob Cleveland Home

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police were searching today for five men who invaded a Shaker Heights home and fled with $150 in cash and an undetermined amount of jewelry after overpowering an 81-year-old widow.

Detectives said the men ransacked the house and their loot included several pieces of diamond-studded jewelry, old coins and cash. Authorities said they would not estimate the value of the missing items until an inventory is completed.

Chicago Opposes Rail Merger; 2 Shippers Say OK

CHICAGO (AP) — The city of Chicago says it doesn't want the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads to merge. But two big shippers are in favor of the proposed merger of the carriers.

In a statement before the Interstate Commerce Commission regional hearing in Chicago Wednesday, J. J. Dahaher, an assistant corporation (city) counsel, said Chicago's opposition is based on the NYC's probable departure from the La Salle Street Station should merger be approved.

This would leave the other terminal partner, the Rock Island Railroad, with the burden of paying full station expenses. Danaher added that would threaten the Rock Island's ability to maintain its current commuter and interstate service.

Backing the proposed linkup were R. L. Sprunger, general rail traffic manager of Central Soya Co., Fort Wayne, Ind., and Albert J. Nattick, head of transportation and warehousing for Libby, McNeill & Libby, Chicago.

Sprunger said the merger would affect his firm's operations at points in Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio and Pennsylvania. The company shipped or received 78,552 cars last year.

City AWOL, Pal Returned To Jail

Two AWOL soldiers, including an East Liverpool man, who escaped from the Guernsey County Jail at Cambridge, are back in custody following their capture in Bellaire Wednesday.

Raymond Emmler, 23, of East Liverpool and Robert Jeffries, 18, of Neffs, Belmont County, were picked up by Bellaire police at the homes of Jeffries' aunt and girl friend, respectively. Officers had been tipped the pair were seen in town. Jeffries tried to run but was quickly collared. Emmler surrendered quietly.

Guernsey County officers went after them last night. They slipped out of jail at Cambridge, apparently through an opening used to pass food into the cells, early yesterday.

They originally were jailed after the Ohio Highway Patrol apprehended them Saturday as wanted by the Army for being absent without leave.

Phoebe Snow Another Noted Train Casualty

By ROGER LANE
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Phoebe Snow has died.

Phoebe Snow? you ask. Well, sir, Phoebe Snow was a train, a passenger train, whose name was a byword among railroad buffs for elegance and good living.

Her passing was mourned as another casualty among the famous old passenger trains that have passed from the tracks in recent years."

Besides Phoebe, the "Zephyr-Rockets" disappeared in 1962 and only a ruling by a government agency spared the passing of the "400"—probably temporarily.

Already chiseled on the tombstone of deluxe railroad travel are the "Royal Blue" the "Black Diamond, the "Commodore Vanderbilt," the "Nellie Bly" and other sentimental favorites.

Behind the disappearance of the famous trains are Mr. and Mrs. Average American, who have deserted the rails for the more flexible automobile and the speedier airplane.

Take the once-flourishing "400," the Chicago and North Western Railway prestige train between Chicago and the twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis.

As its riders switched to the highways and the air, operating losses mounted to $1,734,000 in 1959; climbed up to $2,213,000 the following year and about the same in 1961.

Last spring, the Interstate Commerce Commission refused a C&NW abandonment petition. Wait another year, was the edict.

The "Nellie Bly" disappeared in April 1961, after 71 years on the 143-mile New York-Atlantic City run as a joint venture of the Pennsylvania, Reading and Sea Shore railroads.

Other famous names which have disappeared include the "Royal Blue" of the Baltimore and Ohio the "Gulf Coast Rebel," the "Morning Star," the "Meadowlark" and the "Ann Rutledge."

Some disappeared entirely—like the Lehigh Valley Railroad's "Black Diamond" an all-parlor car train that carried honeymooners from New York to Buffalo from 1896 until the Lehigh went out of the passenger business altogether in 1959.

Others forfeited their identity in consolidations, like the "Commodore Vanderbilt," which was merged by the New York Central into its famed "20th Century Limited" on New York-Chicago runs.

The "Commodore," as it was known familiarly, was named for the most famed railroad baron of them all, Cornelius Vanderbilt, founder of the Central in the 1850s.

Among the leaders is the New York Central's 20th Century Limited.

The Pennsylvania Railroad still has the "Broadway Limited" on the same 16-hour run, the Union Pacific its "City of Los Angeles," the Santa Fe its "Super Chief," the Great Northern its "Empire Builder," the Southern Railway its "Crescent," the Illinois Central its "Panama Limited" and the B&O its "Capitol Limited."

Presser Attorney Asks Execution Stay Of Sentence

CLEVELAND (AP)—An attorney for William Presser, Ohio Teamsters leader, has asked U.S. District Court here to stay the execution of Presser's eight-month sentence for obstructing justice.

Presser, president of Teamsters Joint Council 41, is free on bond pending the outcome of the hearing on three motions filed Wednesday. No hearing date was set immediately.

The latest move came after the U.S. Supreme Court served notice on U.S. District Court here that it has denied a re-hearing petition by Presser on a conviction of obstructing justice.

The high court upheld that conviction by a tie vote Nov. 13. The eight-month federal prison term was imposed on Presser after a Cleveland jury convicted him on June 7, 1960, of charges he mutiliated union records which a Senate rackets committee had subpoenaed.

Edward Knachel, an attorney for Presser, filed the motion for a stay of execution along with another motion requesting probation. A third motion sought clarification of the sentence.

The attorney asked the court to stay execution until Feb. 4 so that the 55-year-old Presser could wind up his business affairs.

Salem Man To Head Welfare Commission

LISBON — James A. Rhodes of Salem was elected president of the Columbiana County Soldiers and Sailors Relief Commission at a reorganization meeting at the Courthouse Tuesday. He succeeds Harry E. Hicks of East Liverpool. Rhodes represents the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Ronald B. Mackall of East Palestine, American Legion, was elected vice president and Hoyt E. Sexton of Lisbon, AMVETS, was named secretary. Hicks represents the Disabled American Veterans.

Dr. Herbert W. Bennett of Lisbon, representing the Spanish American War Veterans, is the other member.

Mrs. Virginia Mast of Leetonia R. D. 1 and Joseph Reed of Shadyside Ave. Ext., East Liverpool, were reappointed service officers for the commission.

Heinzerling Set To Head Ohio AP

NEW YORK (AP) — General Manager Wes Gallagher Wednesday announced the appointment of Lynn Heinzerling, veteran Associated Press foreign service reporter and 1961 Pulitzer Prize winner, as chief of the Columbus, Ohio, bureau.

Johns, 60, has spent 21 years as head of The AP operation in Ohio. In New York he will be an administrative assistant to Deputy General Manager Harry T. Montgomery. He will start his new assignment about Feb. 15.

Heinzerling, 56, returns to his native Ohio from London, where he has been assistant chief of bureau for the past two years. He is a native of Birmingham, Ohio, and attended Ohio Wesleyan.

LEGAL NOTICE
Notice is hereby given that on November 30, 1962, The Ohio Valley Gas Company filed in Docket No. 31344, an Application before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio in which it requests that the Commission find and determine that the rates presently being collected for natural, mixed or manufactured gas service from general service rate consumers in the incorporated area of East Liverpool are unjust, unfair and are insufficient to yield a reasonable compensation for this service. The rates presently being collected are those prescribed in Ohio Valley's Rate Schedule

LEGAL NOTICES

The Ohio Valley Gas Company also requests that the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio fix and determine as the just and reasonable rate to be charged and collected for natural gas service finished to the general service rate consumers in the incorporated area of East Liverpool, the following rates:

First	1,000 cubic feet, per meter per month, 35.0c per 100 cubic feet.
Next	9,000 cubic feet, per meter per month, 11.4c per 100 cubic feet.
Next	290,000 cubic feet, per meter per month, 7.8c per 100 cubic feet.
Over	300,000 cubic feet, per meter per month, 7.0c per 100 cubic feet.

Minimum Monthly Charge $3.50 per Meter.
RECONNECTION CHARGE: IF service under this rate schedule is discontinued at the request of customer, the Company shall not be under any obligation to resume service to the same customer on the same premises until the customer has made payment of an amount equal to the minimum monthly charge for each month of the intervening period, but not to exceed twelve (12) months.
The above rate is subject to decrease or increase in accordance with the provisions of the Company's standard "Fuel Cost Clause".

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

What They Don't Know

New Yorkers know him mainly as a TV news reporter who opens each 11 p.m. newscast with the words, "Well, what kind of a day has it been?" Everybody else in the country knows him as the fellow who used to preside over "Author Meets Critics" and other round tables of the air ("What Makes You Tick," "We Take Your Word," "Take a Guess," "What's the Story?"). The name is John K. M. McCaffery, and the K. M. stands for Kirwin Michael.

Alan Gill

The strain, you see, is Irish. And the freckles are real.

ON JAN. 20 — and rather lateish each Sunday afternoon thereafter — J. K. M. McC. will serve as interlocutor on an exercise in eggheadedness called "Alumni Fun."

Patterned upon the success of "College Bowl," ABC-TV's new show will draw upon captains of industry and the arts — rather than undergraduates — to compete for the honors and cash awards, with the dough going to the alumni fund of the winning team's alma mater.

"We found out a good deal about what kind of question a middle-aged alumnus can and cannot answer.

"AT FIRST, I was surprised at how little these men remember about literature or history. They're good at economics and current events, which isn't surprising, but just ask them which came first, the battles of Hastings, Tours or Agincourt, and they're sure to lose out."

"As a result, the questions are a good bit easier than they are on 'College Bowl.'

"It's hard to choose the right people for something like 'Alumni Fun.' A normally outgoing person can freeze, a dour person opens up. But it's surprising how many are willing.

"We asked George Romney months ago and he said, 'Fine.' I don't know if he still feels that way."

JOHN K. M. McCAFFERY is an alumnus of the University of Wisconsin (B.A.) and Columbia (M.A.) and for a few years was an English teacher in New York.

"I'd still like to be one if it weren't for the pay. I started off teaching at $2,500 a year, and that was the highest salary anybody had in my graduating class."

"I know I talk fast — almost as fast as I read. I do three or four words a second.

"But no, I don't collect my fluggs and spoonerisms. There are too many to collect. I'm always falling over the next work. I'm nervous on camera and before the the show — even before the news shows.

"I nap each evening. I could lie down here on the floor right now and catch 40 winks. But I can't go eight hours straight through the night.

"I'M A COMPULSIVE reader, go through about 10 books a week, five of which are trash.

"I find myself reading everything. If I'm sitting at someone else's desk, I suddenly find I'm half way through the piece of correspondence that's sitting on the blotter. It's terrible.

"I've just edited a mystery anthology. In a disordered and chaotic world, a mystery story brings order, I think. The good guy wins, the bad guy loses, all the pieces fall into place.

"Mysteries are healthier than the news. Every night on the air I say, 'What kind of day has it been?' Well, your wife has put too much vermouth in your martini, that's what, and the office is in a mess, and — well, we try to make some sense and order out of the news for the beleaguered fellow watching. It's not much use.

"THERE'S an awful lot of crime that is so careless of value, so terribly purposeless.

"I don't use stories like that in my newscast. They have no meaning. People ask me, 'Why don't you smile?' How can you smile when you deliver the news?

5 Tie, Gag Widow, Rob Cleveland Home

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police were searching today for five men who invaded a Shaker Heights home and fled with $150 in cash and an undetermined amount of jewelry after overpowering an 81-year-old widow.

Detectives said the men ransacked the house and their loot included several pieces of diamond-studded jewelry, old coins and cash. Authorities said they would not estimate the value of the missing items until an inventory is completed.

Chicago Opposes Rail Merger; 2 Shippers Say OK

CHICAGO (AP) — The city of Chicago says it doesn't want the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads to merge. But two big shippers are in favor of the proposed merger of the carriers.

In a statement before the Interstate Commerce Commission regional hearing in Chicago Wednesday, J. J. Dahaher, an assistant corporation (city) counsel, said Chicago's opposition is based on the NYC's probable departure from the La Salle Street Station should merger be approved.

This would leave the other terminal partner, the Rock Island Railroad, with the burden of paying full station expenses. Danaher added that would threaten the Rock Island's ability to maintain its current commuter and interstate service.

The merger system presumably would operate out of the Union Station, which the Pennsylvania now shares with other rail lines.

Backing the proposed linkup were R. L. Sprunger, general rail traffic manager of Central Soya Co., Fort Wayne, Ind., and Albert J. Nattick, head of transportation and warehousing for Libby, McNeill & Libby, Chicago.

Sprunger said the merger would affect his firm's operations at points in Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio and Pennsylvania. The company shipped or received 78,552 cars last year.

City AWOL, Pal Returned To Jail

Two AWOL soldiers, including an East Liverpool man, who escaped from the Guernsey County Jail at Cambridge, are back in custody following their capture in Bellaire Wednesday.

Raymond Emmler, 23, of East Liverpool and Robert Jeffries, 18, of Neffs, Belmont County, were picked up by Bellaire police at the homes of Jeffries' aunt and girl friend, respectively. Officers had been tipped the pair were seen in town. Jeffries tried to run but was quickly collared. Emmler surrendered quietly.

Guernsey County officers went after them last night. They slipped out of jail at Cambridge, apparently through an opening used to pass food into the cells, early yesterday.

They originally were jailed after the Ohio Highway Patrol apprehended them Saturday as wanted by the Army for being absent without leave.

Phoebe Snow Another Noted Train Casualty

By ROGER LANE
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Phoebe Snow has died.

Phoebe Snow? you ask. Well, sir, Phoebe Snow was a train, a passenger train, whose name was a byword among railroad buffs for elegance and good living.

Her passing was mourned as another casualty among the famous old passenger trains that have passed from the tracks in recent years."

Besides Phoebe, the "Zephyr-Rockets" disappeared in 1962 and only a ruling by a government agency spared the passing of the "400"—probably temporarily.

Already chiseled on the tombstone of deluxe railroad travel are the "Royal Blue" the "Black Diamond, the "Commodore Vanderbilt," the "Nellie Bly" and other sentimental favorites.

Behind the disappearance of the famous trains are Mr. and Mrs. Average American, who have deserted the rails for the more flexible automobile and the speedier airplane.

Take the once-flourishing "400," the Chicago and North Western Railway prestige train between Chicago and the twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis.

As its riders switched to the highways and the air, operating losses mounted to $1,734,000 in 1959; climbed up to $2,213,000 the following year and about the same in 1961.

Last spring, the Interstate Commerce Commission refused a C&NW abandonment petition. Wait another year, was the edict.

The "Nellie Bly" disappeared in April 1961, after 71 years on the 143-mile New York-Atlantic City run as a joint venture of the Pennsylvania, Reading and Sea Shore railroads.

Other famous names which have disappeared include the "Royal Blue" of the Baltimore and Ohio the "Gulf Coast Rebel," the "Morning Star," the "Meadowlark" and the "Ann Rutledge."

Some disappeared entirely—like the Lehigh Valley Railroad's "Black Diamond" an all-parlor car train that carried honeymooners from New York to Buffalo from 1896 until the Lehigh went out of the passenger business altogether in 1959.

Others forfeited their identity in consolidations, like the "Commodore Vanderbilt," which was merged by the New York Central into its famed "20th Century Limited" on New York-Chicago runs.

The "Commodore," as it was known familiarly, was named for the most famed railroad baron of them all, Cornelius Vanderbilt, founder of the Central in the 1850s.

Among the leaders is the New York Central's 20th Century Limited.

The 20th Century celebrated her 60th anniversary last year, and by recent report returns a tidy profit to her operators.

The Pennsylvania Railroad still has the "Broadway Limited" on the same 16-hour run, the Union Pacific its "City of Los Angeles," the Santa Fe its "Super Chief," the Great Northern its "Empire Builder," the Southern Railway its "Crescent," the Illinois Central its "Panama Limited" and the B&O its "Capitol Limited."

Presser Attorney Asks Execution Stay Of Sentence

CLEVELAND (AP)—An attorney for William Presser, Ohio Teamsters leader, has asked U.S. District Court here to stay the execution of Presser's eight-month sentence for obstructing justice.

Presser, president of Teamsters Joint Council 41, is free on bond pending the outcome of the hearing on three motions filed Wednesday. No hearing date was set immediately.

The latest move came after the U.S. Supreme Court served notice on U.S. District Court here that it has denied a re-hearing petition by Presser on a conviction of obstructing justice.

The high court upheld that conviction by a tie vote Nov. 13. The eight-month federal prison term was imposed on Presser after a Cleveland jury convicted him on June 7, 1960, of charges he mutiliated union records which a Senate rackets committee had subpoenaed.

Edward Knachel, an attorney for Presser, filed the motion for a stay of execution along with another motion requesting probation. A third motion sought clarification of the sentence.

The attorney asked the court to stay execution until Feb. 4 so that the 55-year-old Presser could wind up his business affairs.

Salem Man To Head Welfare Commission

LISBON — James A. Rhodes of Salem was elected president of the Columbiana County Soldiers and Sailors Relief Commission at a reorganization meeting at the Courthouse Tuesday. He succeeds Harry E. Hicks of East Liverpool. Rhodes represents the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Ronald B. Mackall of East Palestine, American Legion, was elected vice president and Hoyt E. Sexton of Lisbon, AMVETS, was named secretary. Hicks represents the Disabled American Veterans.

Dr. Herbert W. Bennett of Lisbon, representing the Spanish American War Veterans, is the other member.

Mrs. Virginia Mast of Leetonia R. D. 1 and Joseph Reed of Shadyside Ave. Ext., East Liverpool, were reappointed service officers for the commission.

Heinzerling Set To Head Ohio AP

NEW YORK (AP) — General Manager Wes Gallagher Wednesday announced the appointment of Lynn Heinzerling, veteran Associated Press foreign service reporter and 1961 Pulitzer Prize winner, as chief of the Columbus, Ohio, bureau.

Johns, 60, has spent 21 years as head of The AP operation in Ohio. In New York he will be an administrative assistant to Deputy General Manager Harry T. Montgomery. He will start his new assignment about Feb. 15.

Heinzerling, 56, returns to his native Ohio from London, where he has been assistant chief of bureau for the past two years. He is a native of Birmingham, Ohio, and attended Ohio Wesleyan.

LEGAL NOTICE
NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING
The Annual Meeting of the shareholders of THE POTTERS SAVINGS AND LOAN COMPANY will be held at the office of the Company, 512 Washington Street—519 Broadway, East Liverpool, Ohio, Friday, January 11, 1963, from 1:30 to 2:30 o'clock P. M., for the election of three directors and such other business as properly may come before the meeting.
THE POTTERS SAVINGS AND LOAN COMPANY
By ALWYN C. PURINTON, JR. Secretary
E. L. Review: Dec. 20, 27, 1962, Jan. 3, 10, 1963.

LEGAL NOTICE
Notice is hereby given that on November 30, 1962, The Ohio Valley Gas Company filed in Docket No. 31344, an Application before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio in which it requests that the Commission find and determine that the rates presently being collected for natural, mixed or manufactured gas service from general service rate consumers in the incorporated area of East Liverpool are unjust, unfair and are insufficient to yield a reasonable compensation for this service. The rates presently being collected are those prescribed in Ohio Valley's Rate Schedules

LEGAL NOTICES

P. U. C. O. No. 2, on file with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.
The Ohio Valley Gas Company also requests that the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio fix and determine as the just and reasonable rate to be charged and collected for natural gas service finished to the general service rate consumers in the incorporated area of East Liverpool, the following rates:

First	1,000 cubic feet, per meter per month,	35.0c per 100 cubic feet.
Next	9,000 cubic feet, per meter per month,	11.4c per 100 cubic feet.
Next	290,000 cubic feet, per meter per month,	7.8c per 100 cubic feet.
Over	300,000 cubic feet, per meter per month,	7.0c per 100 cubic feet.

Minimum Monthly Charge $3.50 per Meter.
RECONNECTION CHARGE: IF service under this rate schedule is discontinued at the request of customer, the Company shall not be under any obligation to resume service to the same customer on the same premises until the customer has made payment of an amount equal to the minimum monthly charge for each month of the intervening period, but not to exceed twelve (12) months.
The above rate is subject to decrease or increase in accordance with the provisions of the Company's standard "Fuel Cost Clause".
THE OHIO VALLEY GAS COMPANY
E. L. Review: Jan. 10, 17, 24, 1963.

LEGAL NOTICE

Junior Editors Quiz on CATS

QUESTION: Do all cats dislike water?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Any one who has tried to wash a cat knows how it dislikes water. The reason is that cat fur is not adapted to water, since cats don't have to swim for a living. Animals who stay in water most of the time, such as beaver, seal and muskrat, have fur with a dense undercoating which keeps the skin dry. Of course we love to swim and have no woolly undercoating. But our skins dry off quickly when we come out of the water and we can take our damp bathing suits off. The cat's fur is like a damp suit of clothes hanging around him after he gets wet and this is very uncomfortable. Not all of the cat family dislike water, however. The South American jaguar lives by the edge of rivers which are frequently flooded and he has learned to swim across them. He is also very fond of fish (what cat isn't) and scoops them out with his paw, sometimes leaping in to catch them. When it is very hot, a jaguar will often jump into a water hole and splash around just to cool himself off, much as we might do.

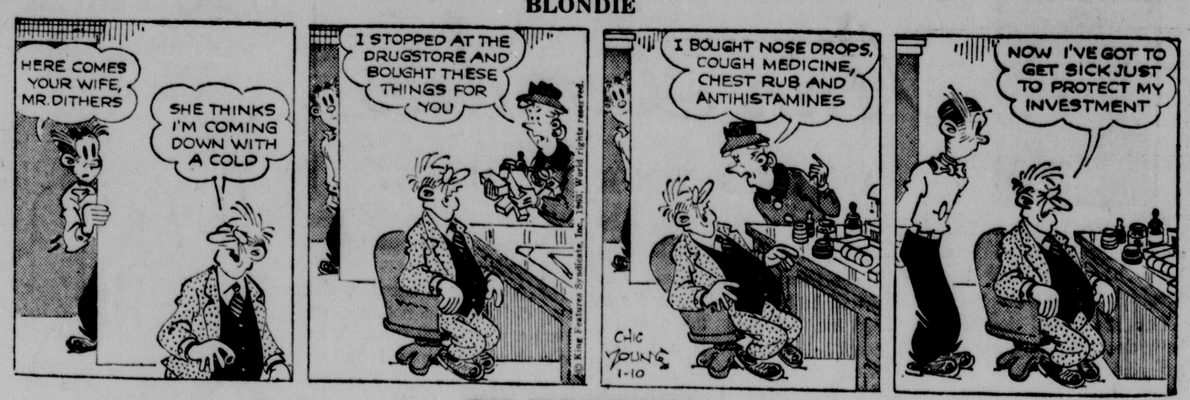

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: In spite of what our friend in the picture seems to think, cats are clean. They rarely need bathing because they clean themselves by licking. But you can help your cat by brushing its coat gently (use a bristle or nylon brush, never a wire one.) The cat will probably enjoy it and it will remove loose hair.

On this day in 1910, the first aviation meet in the United States opened at Los Angeles. The event was highlighted when French aviator Louis Paulhan flew at a height of 4,149 feet to set a world altitude record.

On this day:

In 1861, Florida seceded from the Union.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This is a delicate problem and I need to know how to handle it — or should it be handled at all?

Our 12-year-old daughter is a born do-gooder — always looking for someone to help. Yesterday Mary came home from school and told me about a new girl in her room who is very nice. The new girl's father brings her to school every morning in a beat-up truck. Mary said, "Her Daddy wears overalls so I know he doesn't work in an office or anything like that."

The new girl has very bad teeth. Even the ones in front are decayed. When she smiles she always puts her hand up to her mouth which indicates she is self conscious about it.

My husband is a dentist. Mary has asked her dad if he will fix the girl's teeth without pay. My husband said he would. Now, how do we go about it? Should I call the girl's mother? Should my daughter ask the girl directly? Or should we not get involved?—MARY'S MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Speak to the teacher. Ask her to contact the new girl's mother and give her the information. The child need not know it's "a gift." And, incidentally, you are raising an admirable daughter.

Shutter Bugged

My beef is this: At every family gathering (and we are a mighty gathering family) he shoots dozens of pictures. Then he slaves for hours making prints. The relatives can well afford to pay 50 cents apiece for these wonderful 5x7 and 8x10 pictures. But my hard-headed husband says, "No, I wouldn't think of charging them. I do this for fun."

Fun, my eye! He does it with money that could be better spent buying nicer clothing for his family or fixing up our house. Why should he be so balky about asking the relatives to pay for prints? I think he is a sucker. What do you think? — HYPO HARRIET, THE LENSHOUND's WIFE.

Dear Wife: The lenshound sounds like a sweet guy who enjoys his hobby, so why don't you keep your nose out of his hydroquinone? If he tried to sell his pictures it would no longer be a hobby — it would be a business.

The relatives ought to buy him a little gift for his time and trouble . . . or, better still, they should get together and buy him a BIG gift for his years of generosity.

Social Outcast

Dear Ann: Please tell me if it is socially correct for a woman to help a man put on his coat—someone who is not her husband, that is. I did this recently for a guest in our home. His wife gave me a withering look. My husband later told me I had done something equivalent to eating peas off a knife.

The next day I asked a close friend whether or not this was wrong and she said it was a bad social boner because I had put myself in a class with a servant.

I am still not 100 per cent convinced. Can you settle this please? — UNCONFORTABLE.

Dear Uncomfortable: Good manners is common sense and consideration for others. If you can help a man by holding his coat, I say go ahead and do it.

Confidentially

TO VIEW FROM THE AUDIENCE: Women who appear on a public platform should sit with their legs crossed at the ankle rather than at the knee. Short, slim skirts adds to the problem. A sweater, wrap or a stole across the knees can be helpful.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Dieter Organizes To Slim Figure

A discouraged young mother, feeling defeated by the fat, writes: "I am 34 pounds overweight. Won't you tell me how other young mothers get started and stay with a diet?"

Ida Jean Kain

Gladly. Tune in. . .the young mother in today's story has a plan that is paying dividends. Let her inspire you to take charge of your life.

"I have been one of those 'poor will-power' people — the starve and stuff type of dieter. I'm happy to report that I have finally found the way to lick my weight.

"To begin with, let me explain that I had previously tried every kind of diet, only to slip back into my old fattening ways of overeating. Ironically enough, the fact that I was not too terribly overweight kept me from making a wholehearted effort.

"NOW TO MY plan: First, I have given myself an objective, a trip back home — after ten years of marriage and four children.

"Secondly, I got organized. This I believe is the real secret of my whole plan. I keep a record of what I eat and take the time to mark down the calories on a big calendar. I find that keeping a calorie budget allows for considerable freedom.

"With calorie arithmetic you know just where you stand. No guess work. I will have to add here that I did get pills from my doctor to act as an initial aid to bolster my will, but I took them for ten days only.

"I do not look upon my daily meals as a diet, for diets are temporary. This is a menu pattern plan that restricts the calories but allows for freedom of choice. Daily menus are built around protein and protective foods. I stay away from sweets and excessively starchy foods. After two weeks I didn't miss the sweets.

"Also, I exercise daily. It's surprising how easy it is to exercise once you set a definite time. The best time for me is in the mornings after my husband has left for work and the two oldest children are off to school.

"The two little fellows at home exercise with me. We do the exercises that are the most fun. . . and I leave the relaxing exercise until the children's nap time. I plan to continue exercising always in order to keep slim. Besides, exercises help me to feel wonderful!

"I have already reduced 20 pounds and have only 10 more to go. I have a mature attitude toward this whole business of eating for weight control. It's just childish to sneak behind yourself for tidbits," she concluded.

EXCELLENT. This intelligent young mother organized her day and fits slimming into a busy schedule.

She plans protective menus and is changing her thinking and her food habits while she is reducing. We would like to hear from her again.

Send a stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for two leaflets: "Choose To Lose Diet," and "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Gladly. Tune in. . .the young mother in today's story has a plan that is paying dividends. Let her inspire you to take charge of your life.

"I have been one of those 'poor will-power' people — the starve and stuff type of dieter. I'm happy to report that I have finally found the way to lick my weight.

"To begin with, let me explain that I had previously tried every kind of diet, only to slip back into my old fattening ways of overeating. Ironically enough, the fact that I was not too terribly overweight kept me from making a wholehearted effort.

"NOW TO MY plan: First, I have given myself an objective, a trip back home — after ten years of marriage and four children.

"Secondly, I got organized. This I believe is the real secret of my whole plan. I keep a record of what I eat and take the time to mark down the calories on a big calendar. I find that keeping a calorie budget allows for considerable freedom.

"With calorie arithmetic you know just where you stand. No guess work. I will have to add here that I did get pills from my doctor to act as an initial aid to bolster my will, but I took them for ten days only.

"I do not look upon my daily meals as a diet, for diets are temporary. This is a menu pattern plan that restricts the calories but allows for freedom of choice. Daily menus are built around protein and protective foods. I stay away from sweets and excessively starchy foods. After two weeks I didn't miss the sweets.

"Also, I exercise daily. It's surprising how easy it is to exercise once you set a definite time. The best time for me is in the mornings after my husband has left for work and the two oldest children are off to school.

"The two little fellows at home exercise with me. We do the exercises that are the most fun. . . and I leave the relaxing exercise until the children's nap time. I plan to continue exercising always in order to keep slim. Besides, exercises help me to feel wonderful!

"I have already reduced 20 pounds and have only 10 more to go. I have a mature attitude toward this whole business of eating for weight control. It's just childish to sneak behind yourself for tidbits," she concluded.

EXCELLENT. This intelligent young mother organized her day and fits slimming into a busy schedule.
